

Introduction

In this issue of Applied Psycholinguistics, we present a first annual Keynote Article. The article itself, in this case by Harald Clahsen and Claudia Felser, is followed by the Commentaries of several other researchers. The authors then reply to the Commentaries. It is our hope that this format will provide our readers with an in-depth discussion of central and topical issues in psycholinguistic research. We are grateful to Drs. Clahsen and Felser for writing the initial keynote article as well as to the group of researchers who provided their thoughtful and rigorous commentary.
