

Organized Sections Distribute Awards at 2002 Annual Meeting

At their respective meetings during APSA's 2002 Annual meeting in San Francisco, organized Sections distributed over 50 awards recognizing dissertations, books, papers, and careers. Many of these Section awards are given annually and nominations are sought at this time for next year's award. For further information be sure to visit www.apsanet.org/about/sections.

Federalism and Intergovernmental Relations

The Daniel Elazar Distinguished Federalism Scholar Award recognizing distinguished scholarly contributions to the study of federalism and intergovernmental relations, was presented to Timothy Conlan of George Mason University. The Best Paper Award, conferred for the best paper in the field of federalism and intergovernmental relations presented at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was given to William T. Gormley Jr. of Georgetown University, for "An Evolutionary Approach to Federalism in the U.S." The Best Book Award, conferred for the best book on federalism and intergovernmental relations published at least ten years ago that has made a lasting contribution to the study of federalism and intergovernmental relations, was presented to Samuel H. Beer, for his work To Make a Nation: The Rediscovery of Federalism (Belnap Press of Harvard University, 1993).

Law and Courts

The American Judicature Society Award, conferred for the best paper on law and courts presented at the previous year's annual meetings of the American, Midwest, Northeastern, Southern, Southwestern, or Western Political Science Associations, was given to Timothy Johnson of the University of Minnesota, James Spriggs II of the University of California, Davis, and Paul Wahlbeck of George Washington University, for their paper "Passing and Sophisticated Voting on the U.S. Supreme Court" (APSA, 2001). The Wadsworth Publishing Award, given for a book or journal article, 10 years or older, that has made a lasting impression on the field of law and courts, was awarded to Jeffrey A.

Segal of SUNY, Stony Brook, for his article "Predicting Supreme Court Cases Probabilistically: The Search and Seizure Cases, 1962-1981" APSR 78 (1984). The McGraw-Hill Award, given for the best journal article on law and courts written by a political scientist and published in 2001, was presented to Melinda Gann Hall, Michigan State University, for "State Supreme Courts in American Democracy: Probing the Myths of Judicial Reform" APSR 95 (2001). The Congressional Quarterly Press Award, conferred annually for the best paper on law and courts written by a graduate student, was given to Paul M. Collins Jr., Binghamton University, for "Organized Interests in the Supreme Court: Gauging the Effectiveness of Amicus Curiae Participation" (Midwest PSA, 2002). The C. Helman Pritchett Award, for the best book on law and courts written by a political scientist and published in 2001, was awarded to Lynn, Dartmouth College, Craig A.

McEwen, Bowdoin College, and Richard J. Maiman of the University of Southern Maine, for their book Divorce Lawyers at Work: Varieties of Professionalism in Practice (Oxford University Press, 2001). The Lifetime Achievement Award, honoring a distinguished career of achievement and service in the field of law and courts, was presented to Walter Berns of the American Enterprise Institute.

Legislative Studies

The CQ Press Award, for the best paper on legislative studies presented at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was given to Kathryn L. Pearson, University of California, Berkeley, for "Legislating in Women's Interests? Congresswomen in the 106th Congress." The Carl Albert Dissertation Award, for the best doctoral dissertation in the area of legislative studies completed in 2001, was presented to Deborah Jordan

Honoring Outstanding Contributions

At the 2002 Annual Meeting in Boston both the APSA Committee on the Status of Latinos y Latinas in the Profession and the Committee on the Status of Blacks in the Profession recognized scholars who have made outstanding contributions.

At the Committee on the Status of Latinos y Latinas reception, the second annual Adaljiza Sosa-Riddell Mentoring Award was presented. The award recognizes scholars who have engaged in exemplary mentoring of graduate and undergraduate Latino/a students in political science. John A. Garcia of the University of Arizona was recognized for his work with graduate students and Irasema Coronado of the University of Texas, El Paso was honored for his mentoring of undergraduate students. For more information about the award visit the committee web site <www.csulb.edu/depts/posc/latinocaucus>.

At its annual nightcap reception, the Committee on the Status of Blacks recognized Matthew Holden Jr. for his service and commitment to the committee. Holden recently retired from the University of Virginia where he had served as a faculty member since 1981. Throughout his career, Holden has played an active role in developing and promoting activities concerning the professional development of blacks within the discipline.

Irasema Coronado (right) and John A. Garcia at the Committee on the Status of Latinos y Latina reception.

Brooks, Yale University, for "When Candidates Attack: The Effects of Negative Campaigning on Voter Turnout in Senate Elections." The Jewell-Loewenberg Paper Award, for the best article in the Legislative Studies Quarterly in 2001, was awarded to Stephen Ansolabehere, James M. Snyder Jr., and Charles Stewart III, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for their article "The Effects of Party and Preferences on Congressional Roll Call Voting" (November 2001). The Richard Fenno Jr. Book Prize, awarded for the best book on legislative studies published in 2001, was given to Eric Schickler, University of California, Berkeley, for Disjointed Pluralism: Institutional Innovation and the Development of the U.S. Congress (Princeton University Press, 2001).

Public Policy

The Aaron Wildavsky Enduring Contribution Award, recognizing a book that has had a lasting impact on the study of public policy, was given to Deborah Stone, for her book Policy Paradox and Political Reason (Scott, Foresman, 1988).

Political Organizations & Parties

The Samuel Eldersveld Career Achievement Lifetime Award, given annually to recognize a member of the profession who has made an exemplary contribution to the study of political organizations and parties, was presented to Walter Dean Burnham of the University of Texas, Austin. The Emerging Scholar Award, awarded to a young scholar in the field of political organizations and parties, was given to Jacob S. Hacker, Harvard Society of Fellows. The Jack Walker Award, given annually to honor the best article published in the field of political organizations and parties during the previous two calendar years, was awarded to Stephen Ansolabehere, James M. Snyder Jr., and Charles Stewart III, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for their article "The Effects of Party and Preferences on Congressional Roll-Call Voting," Legislative Studies Quarterly 36 (November 2001). The Leon Epstein Award, honoring a book published in the last two calendar years that makes an outstanding contribution to research and scholarship on political organizations and parties, was given to Scott C. James, UCLA, for his book Presidents, Parties, and the Regulatory State (Cambridge University Press, 2000).

Public Administration

The Herbert Kaufman Award, for the best paper presented at the 2001 APSA meeting, was awarded to Charles C. Hinnant, University of Georgia, for "Managerial Perceptions of Technology Acceptance," and Barbara S. Romzek and Jocelyn M. Johnston of the University of Kansas, for "State Contracting, Social Service Networks, and Effective Accountability."

Conflict Processes

The Best Book Award, given for the best book published in the previous year on conflict processes, was presented to Kelly Kadera, University of Iowa, for The Power-Conflict Story: A Dynamic Model of Interstate Rivalry (University of Michigan Press, 2001).

Representation and Electoral Systems

The George H. Hallett Award, presented annually to the author of a book published at least ten years ago that has made a lasting contribution to the literature on representation and electoral systems, was given to David Butler of Oxford University and Donald E. Stokes of Princeton University, for their book Political Change in Britain (St. Martin's Press, 1971). The Leon Weaver Award, given for the best paper presented at a panel sponsored by the Representation and Electoral Systems division, was presented to Aubrey W. Jewett, University of Central Florida, for "Does Voting Method Affect the Level of Ballot Position on Election Outcomes?"

Presidency Research

The Richard E. Neustadt Award, given for the best book published during 2001 that contributed to research and scholarship in the field of American presidency, was awarded to Kenneth R. Mayer, University of Wisconsin, Madison, for his book With the Stroke of a Pen: Executive Orders and Presidential Power (Princeton University Press, 2001). Honorable Mention was given to

Larry Berman, University of California, Washington Center, for No Peace, No Honor: Nixon, Kissinger, and Betrayal in Vietnam (Free Press, 2001), and to Patricia H. Conley, Texas A&M University, for Presidential Mandates: How Elections Shape the National Agenda (University of Chicago Press, 2001). The Founder's Award, honoring Stephen Wayne, and awarded for the best paper presented at the 2001 meeting, was presented to B. Dan Wood, Texas A&M University, and John Bohte, Oakland University, for "The Politics of Administrative Design." The Founder's Award, honoring Lester Sigelman, and awarded for the best paper presented by a graduate student at the 2001 meeting, was presented to Casey B.K. Dominguez, University of California, Berkeley, for "Is it a Honeymoon? An Empirical Investigation of the President's First Hundred Days."

Religion and Politics

The Aaron Wildavsky Award, for the best dissertation on religion and politics, and supported by the Lilly Endowment, was presented to R. Elora Shehabuddin, Rice University, for "Encounters with the State: Gender and Islam in Rural Bangladesh." The Best Paper Award, for the best paper dealing with religion and politics presented at the 2001 meeting, was given to Stephen Whitefield, Oxford University, for "Religiosity, Political Attitudes and Political Participation in Russia, 1993-1998."

Urban Politics

The Best Book Award, for the best book on urban politics published in 2001, was given to Susan Welch, Pennsylvania State University, Lee Sigelman, George Washington University, Timothy Bledsoe, Wayne State University, and Michael Combs, University of Nebraska, for their book Race and Place: Race Relations in an American City (Cambridge University Press, 2001), and to Clarence N. Stone, George Washington University, Jeffrey R. Henig, George Washington University, Bryan D. Jones, University of Washington, and Carol Pierannunzi, Kennesaw State University, for Building Civic Capacity: The Politics of Reforming Urban Schools (University Press of Kansas, 2001). The Best Paper Award, for the best paper given at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was presented to Loren King, MIT, for "Democratic Hopes in the Polycentric City."

Science, Technology, & Environmental Politics

The Lynton Keith Caldwell Award, for the best book on environmental politics and policy published in the past three years, was given to Kate O'Neill, University of California, Berkeley, for her book Waste Trading Among Rich Nations: Building a New Theory of Environmental Regulation (MIT Press, 2000).

Women and Politics

The Best Dissertation Prize, for the best dissertation on women and politics, was given to Wendy Smooth of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, for "African American Women State Legislators: The Impact of Gender and Race on Legislative Influence." The Best Paper Award, for the best paper presented at the 2001 annual meeting in the field of women and politics, was awarded to Eileen McDonagh, Northeastern University, for her paper "'Political Citizenship and Democratization: The Gender Paradox.'"

Foundations of Political Theory

The David Easton Award, recognizing books published during the previous five years that broaden the horizons of contemporary political science by engaging issues of philosophical significance in political life through various approaches in the social sciences and humanities, was given to Nancy L. Rosenblum, Harvard University, for her book Membership and Morals: The Personal Uses of Pluralism in America (Princeton University Press, 1998). The First Book Award, recognizing the best first book published in 2001 by a scholar in the early stages of his or her career in the area of political theory/philosophy, was presented to Ayelet Shachar, University of Toronto, for Multicultural Jurisdictions: Cultural Differences and Women's Rights (Cambridge University Press, 2001). Honorable Mention was given to Daniel Engster, University of Texas, San Antonio, for Divine Sovereignty: The Origins of Modern State Power (Northern Illinois University Press,

Washington Insider

Senate Approves, Bush Administration Opposes, Doubling NSF

On September 19, Sen. Ernest Hollings (D-SC), chair of the Senate Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, favorably reported bill S. 2817 to effectively double National Science Foundation the NSF budget from near $5 billion to near $10 billion by FY 2007. The Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions Committee had reported the bill September 5. The House also passed a similar version of this legislation June 5, differing markedly only in that the Senate bill would make the Math and Science Partnership (MSP) Program a formula block, not a competitive grant program, in FY 2006. The House-Senate staff hopes to meet and resolve this difference before the bill comes to the Senate floor. The bill still faces staunch opposition from the Bush Administration, which may veto the bill.

New Fiscal Year Begins; Government Agencies Limp Along at Old Year Levels

Federal agencies continue to operate under FY 2002 funding levels due to Congress's failure to enact any of the 13 appropriations bills. The continued 2002 funding levels restrict government agencies from undertaking new programs while programs slated for increases, including the NSF and NIH, must await further developments. Only two passed Continuous Resolutions (CR) enable the government to continue functioning. Many more CRs are apparently on the horizon, virtually ensuring a lame-duck session of Congress in November and December.

Smithsonian Solicits Donors as Visitation Plummets

The September 11 terrorist attacks and their aftermath precipitated a dramatic reduction in the number of visitors to the Smithsonian Institute's museums. The Smithsonian recently issued a fund-raising appeal to patrons, museum supporters, and those on its mailing lists mentioning the effects of the September 11 terrorist attacks on the museum's visitation base. The Smithsonian has seen a precipitous 29 % drop in visitation over the past seven months. The federal government provides about 70 % of the Smithsonian Institute's budget with the remaining 30 % raised through private contributions and from Smithsonian business ventures. The Smithsonian is one of the institutions forced to operate under FY 2002 funding levels due to the current budget impasse.

United States to Rejoin UNESCO

The United States will finally rejoin the UN's Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) following a prolonged absence begun in the Reagan Administration. UNESCO was created in 1946 to promote collaboration among nations in education, science, culture, and communications. The U.S. withdrew from UNESCO in 1984 citing poor management and philosophical disagreements. The U.S. will now work with the organization's 188 member countries on UNESCO goals of expanding educational opportunities, protecting world heritage sites, developing reliable world scientific standards and statistics, and promoting freedom of expression and human rights. President Bush announced the decision in his September 12 address to the UN.

Sources for this column include the National Coordinating Committee for the promotion of History's NCC Washington Update, the Chronicle for Higher Education, and www.aahrpp.org.

Saluting Our Fifty-Year Members

50 years in 2002

Eliot S. Berkley*	Lewis Gulick+	James G. March+
Walter Berns*	Dagmar Gunther-Stirn*	Dalmas H. Nelson
Frederick C. Engelmann*	Lawrence J.R. Herson*	Curtis H. O'Sullivan+
Richard F. Fenno, Jr.	Scott D. Johnston*	Paul J. Piccard+
Harold Guetzkow*	Harvey C. Mansfield	Lucian W. Pye*
		Deil S. Wright*

50 plus years

Henry J. Abraham*	Esther S. Goldstein*	Maurice E. Odonnell*
Herbert E. Alexander*	Doris A. Graber	Felix E. Oppenheim*
Gabriel A. Almond*	Daniel R. Grant*	Vincent Ostrom*
David E. Apter*	Gibson Gray*	Samuel C. Patterson+
Henry Bain*	Milton Greenberg*	Julius Paul*
Richard D. Baker*	Fred Greene*	Jack W. Peltason*
Sidney Baldwin*	Clifford R. Gross*	Roy Pierce*
Lucius J. Barker*	Harry H. Hall+	J. Austin Ranney+
Samuel H. Barnes	Ferrel Heady*	Ross R. Rice*
Ernest R. Bartley*	Pendleton Herring+	Benjamin Rivlin*
Samuel H. Beer+	Charles M. Hersh*	Elston E. Roady*
A. LeRoy Bennett*	A K. Hesselberg*	James S. Roberts*
G. Robert Blackburn*	Jack E. Holmes	H. Mark Roelofs
William T. Bluhm*	Leigh W. Hunt Jr.*	John H. Romani+
Robert L. Bock*	Samuel P. Huntington+	William J. Ronan*
Frederic S. Burin, II*	J C. Hurewitz*	James N. Rosenau
James MacGregor	Robert H. Johnson*	Raymond K. Rossiter*
Burns+	Charles O. Jones+	Joseph A. Schlesinger+
Eleanore Bushnell*	Max M. Kampelman*	H. P. Secher*
Otto Butz*	Morton A. Kaplan*	Roberta S. Sigel*
Douglas Carlisle+	William J. Keefe*	Albert Somit*
Holbert N. Carroll*	Frank L. Klingberg*	Frank J. Sorauf*
Karl H. Cerny*	Charles A. Koehler	Herbert J. Spiro*
Truett L. Chance*	Louis W. Koenig*	Robert J. Steamer*
Carl Q. Christol*	Norman Kogan*	Murray S. Stedman Jr.*
Charles L. Clapp*	Fred Kort*	Robert H. Stern*
Harlan Cleveland*	Edward M. Kresky*	Robert S. Sullivant*
Edward F. Cooke*	John W. Lederle*	Elmer Swack*
Robert A. Dahl+	Avery Leiserson*	Thor Swanson+
Alfred Diamant*	Louis E. Leopold*	Richard N. Swift
Walter H. Dodd*	David M. Levitan*	Ross B. Talbot*
Marion E. Doro*	George T. Little*	Jack E. Thomas*
Alex N. Dragnich*	Gerhard Loewenberg	Edward P. Torrey+
Frederick E. Ellis+	Robert Lorish*	George O. Totten*
Hugh L. Elsbree*	Arthur Maass*	David B. Truman*
Hugo O. Engelmann*	Donald R. Matthews*	Daniel W. Tuttle*
Leon D. Epstein*	Janice C. May	Paul P. Van Riper*
Heinz Eulau*	Paul T. McCullough	John C. Wahlke*
William O. Farber*	Lee C. McDonald*	David B. Walker
James W. Fesler*	Joseph C. McKenna*	Herbert Waltzer*
Robert S. Friedman*	Theodore H. McNelly*	Richard A. Ware*
Stanley T. Gabis*	Robert O. McWilliams*	Robert E. Ward*
Henry C. Galant*	Charles R. Nixon*	George A. Warp*
Herbert Garfinkel*	Harding C. Noblitt*	Sheldon S. Wolin*
William A. Glaser+	Grady H. Nunn*

* indicates retired member
+ indicates life member

2001). The Best Paper Award, given for the best paper presented on a Foundations panel at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was awarded to Laurie Balfour, University of Virginia, for "The Argument of John Brown," and to Roy Tsao, Georgetown University, for "Arendt Against Athens: Rereading The Human Condition."

Information Technology and Politics

The Best Web Site Award, for the best educational web site, was given to John D. Wilkerson, LEGSIM, Legislative Simulator <depts.washington.edu/legsim> in the Educational Category, and The Dirksen Congressional Center Web Suite, The Dirksen Congressional Center <www.dirksencongressionalcenter.org>.

Comparative Politics

The Gregory Luebbert Book Award, for the best book in the field of comparative politics in the previous year, was presented to Nicolas van de Walle, Michigan State University, African Economies and the Politics of Permanent Crisis, 1979-1999 (Cambridge University Press, 2001). Runner up was Evelyne Huber and John Stephens, for Development and Crisis of the Welfare State: Parties and Politics in Global Markets (University of Chicago Press, 2001).

The Gregory Luebbert Article Award, for the best article in the field of comparative politics in the previous year, was given to Guillermo A. O'Donnell, University of Notre Dame, for "Democracy, Law, and Comparative Politics," Studies in Comparative International Development, Vol. 36 (Spring 2001). Runners up were Michael L. Ross, UCLA, "Does Oil Hinder Democracy?" World Politics Vol. 53 (April 2001), and Ashutosh Varshney, University of Michigan, "Ethnic Conflict and Civil Society: India and Beyond," World Politics Vol. 53 (April 2001). The Sage Paper Award, for the best paper in the field of comparative politics presented at the previous APSA meeting, was awarded to James Gibson, Washington University, for "Does Truth Lead to Reconciliation? Testing the Causal Assumptions of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Process.” Honorable Mentions went to Carles Boix and Luis Garicano, University of Chicago, for “Democracy, Inequality, and Country-Specific Wealth,” and Robert R. Kaufman and Alex Segura-Ubiergo, Columbia University, for “Globalization, Domestic Politics, and Social Spending in Latin America: A Time-Series Cross-Section Analysis.” The Data Set Award, for publicly available data set that has made an important contribution to the field of comparative politics, was presented to Michael Alvarez, DePaul University, Jose Antonio Cheibub, Yale University, Fernando Limongi, CEBRAP (Brazil) and Adam Przeworski, New York University, for “ACLP Political and Economic Database.”

European Politics and Society

The Best Paper Award, given for the best paper presented at a panel sponsored by the section at the 2001 meeting, was awarded to Michael Bernhard, Pennsylvania State University, for his paper entitled “Democratization in Germany: A Reappraisal.” The Best Book Award, given for the best book on European politics and society published in the previous year, was presented to Stefano Bartonlini, for his book The Political Mobilization of the European Left, 1860-1980: The Class Cleavage (Cambridge University Press, 2000).

Political Communication

The Doris Graber Outstanding Book Award, for the best book published on political communication in the last ten years, was given to Thomas E. Patterson, Harvard University, for his book entitled Out of Order (Alfred Knopf, 1993). The Murray Edelman Distinguished Career Award, for lifetime contribution to the study of political communication, was awarded to Thomas E. Patterson, Harvard University.

Politics and History

The J. David Greenstone Book Prize, for the best book in politics and history published in the past two years, was presented to Richard F. Bensel, Cornell University, for Political Economy of American Industrialization, 1877-1900 (Cambridge University Press, 2000). The

Contributors to APSA Awards and Programs

April - October 2002

Thomas W. Adams	Anthony King
John R. Alford	Robin A. Kolodny
Gary J. Andres	Robert W. Lane
Janni L. Aragon	Jerome S. Legge, Jr.
Walter E. Beach	Kit G. Machado
Elizabeth Troccoli Boris	Melissa J. Marschall
Henry E. Brady	Susan McAndrew
Nancy E. Burns	Eric J. Narcisse
Elizabeth Capell	Anna Maria Ortiz
Kenneth M. Coleman	Kelly D. Patterson
Sylvester Coleman	Eric Plutzer
William Corlett	Frank Prindle
Peter Eisinger	Ronald J. Schmidt, Sr.
Cynthia H. Enloe	Donna E. Shalala
Pauldine France	Howard J. Silver
William E. Frenzel	William C. Spragens
Kichizo Fujimoto	Harold W. Stanley
Vanna Gonzales	Janet D. Steiger
Claus Gramckow	Susette M. Talarico
Mary E. Hawkesworth	Wilson Carey McWilliams
Kim Hildred	Price I. Watkins
Karen M. Kedrowski	Eleanor E. Zeff

Thank you for your support

Mary Parker Follett Prize, for the best article on politics and history published in the previous year, was given to Evan S. Lieberman, Yale University, for “Causal Inference in Historical Institutional Analysis: A Specification of Periodization Strategies,” Comparative Political Studies 34 (November 2001).

Political Economy

The Best Book Award, for the best book on political economy published in 2001, was given to Evelyne Huber and John D. Stephens, University of North Carolina, for Development and Crisis of the Welfare State (University of Chicago Press, 2001), and to Gene M. Grossman, Princeton University, and Elhanan Helpman, Harvard University, for Special Interest Politics (MIT Press, 2001). The Best Dissertation Award, for the best dissertation on political economy in 2001, was presented to Rod Alence of Stanford University, for “World Markets and the Politics of African Open Economies: Domestic Policy Responses to External Volatility in Ghana, 1937-84.”

Ecological and Transformational Politics

The Best Book Award, for the best book on ecological and transformational politics published within the previous two years that deal with social movements, environmental politics, race, ethnicity, and gender in terms of democratic ideals, was presented to Michael S. Cummings, University of Colorado, Denver, for his book Beyond Political Correctness: Social Transformation in the United States (Lynne Rienner Publishers, 2001). The Best Dissertation Award, for the most outstanding dissertation on ecological and transformational politics completed in the previous year, was given to Michele M. Betsill of Colorado State University for “Greens in the Greenhouse: Environmental NGOs, Norms and the Politics of Global Climate Change.” The Best Paper

Award, for the best paper on ecological and transformational politics presented at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was given to John Rensenbrink, Bowdoin College, for his paper "A Planetary Government for the Planet's Ills: United Representative Government, Direct Democracy, and the Federal Principle." The Praxis Award, for political scientists who embodies the praxis of political and personal transformation, was awarded to Betty H. Zisk, Boston University. The Distinguished Career Award, for political scientists who have exemplified the highest standards of the Section's goals over the course of their career, was given to James MacGregor Burns, Williams College and University of Richmond, William Caspary, Washington University and New York University, John Rensenbrink, Bowdoin College, and Joan Roelofs, Keene State College.

New Political Science

The Christian Bay Award, for the best paper presented at a new political science panel at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was given to Carl Swidorski, College of Saint Rose, for "From the Wagner Act to the Human Rights Watch Report: Labor and Freedom of Expression and Association, 1935-2000." The Charles A. McCoy Career Achievement Award for a progressive political scientist who has had a long, successful career as a writer, teacher and activist, was presented to Philip Green, Smith College. The Michael Harrington Book Award, for an outstanding book that demonstrates how scholarship can be used in the struggle for a better world, was given to Peter Dreier, Occidental College, John Mollenkopf, CUNY Graduate School, and Todd Swanstrom, Saint Louis University, for their book Place Matters: Metropolitica for the Twenty-First Century (University Press of Kansas, 2001).

Political Psychology

The Robert E. Lane Award, for the best book in political psychology published in 2001, was given to Bryan D. Jones, University of Washington, for Politics and the Architecture of Choice: Bounded Rationality and Governance (University of Chicago Press, 2001).

Undergraduate Education

The Best Paper Presentation Award, for the best presentation on undergraduate education at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was given to Matthew Lindstrom, Sienna College, for "What's a Bus Ticket Got to Do with My American Politics Class? Experimenting with a Political Treasure Hunt."

Elections, Public Opinion and Voting Behavior

The Best Paper Award, for the best paper delivered at the 2001 APSA Annual Meeting, was awarded to Marty Cohen, David Karol, Hans Noel, and John Zaller, University of California, Los Angeles, for "Beating Reform: The Resurgence of Parties in Presidential Nominations, 1980 to 2000." The Philip E. Converse Book Award, for an outstanding book in the field published at least five years before, was presented to Morris Fiorina, Stanford University, for Retrospective Voting in American National Elections (Yale University Press, 1981). The Emerging Scholar Award, awarded at least biennially to a top scholar in the field who is within 10 years of her or his Ph.D., was given to Michael Alvarez, California Institute of Technology.

Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Best Book Award, for book on Political Participation, Voting, Elections, and Political Behavior in Racial/Ethnic Politics was awarded to Pei-te Lien, University of Utah, for her book The Making of Asian America Through Political Participation (Temple University Press, 2001). The Best Book Award, for book on Public Policies, Social and Legal Dimensions of Ethnic and Racial Politics in the United States was given to Keith Wilcox, University of North Carolina, for Dying in the City of the Blues: Sickle Cell Anemia and the Politics of Race and Health (University of North Carolina Press, 2001). Matthew Pratt Guterl, Brown University, was presented the Best Book Award, for book on Historical Perspectives of Race/Ethnicity for his work The Color of Race in America, 1900-1940 (Harvard University Press, 2001). The Best Book Award, for book on Race/Ethnicity and Foreign Policy/ Globalization was given to Nora Hamilton, University of Southern California and Norma Stoltz Chinchilla, California State University, Long Beach, for Seeking Community in a Global City: Guatemalans and Salvadorans in Los Angeles (Temple University Press, 2001). The Best Book Award, for book on Ideology, Intellectual History and Political Theory in Racial/Ethnic Politics was given to Michael C. Dawson, Harvard University, for Black Visions: The Roots of Contemporary African-American Political Ideologies (University of Chicago Press, 2001). The Best Dissertation Award, for the best dissertation on race, ethnicity, and politics completed in the previous year was given to Renee Ann Cramer, California State University, Long Beach, for her thesis "The Multiple Contexts of Federal Acknowledgement Law: A Sociological Perspective," completed at New York University.

International History and Politics

The Robert L. Jervis and Paul W. Schroeder Prize, for the best book on international history and politics published in 2001, was given to G. John Ikenberry, Georgetown University, for After Victory: Institutions, Strategic Restraint, and the Rebuilding of Order After Major Wars (Princeton University Press, 2001).