

CONTRIBUTORS

Lawrence A. Berger is Assistant Professor of Insurance at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He has authored papers on the economics of insurance markets and is currently working on applications of interpretive social science to problems in financial markets and macroeconomic policy.

Timothy Brennan is Associate Professor of Public Policy, Communication, and Economics at George Washington University. His articles have addressed issues of antitrust, regulation, ethics, broadcasting policy, and methodology of economics. His current projects include the inalienability of "rights" and the epistemology of public policy decision.

Adolfo García de la Sienra is Professor of Philosophy at the National University of Mexico. He has published in Critica, Erkenntnis, Social Theory and Practice, and Poznan Studies. He has just finished a book on the logical foundations of the Marxian theory of value.

Alan P. Hamlin is an Economist at the University of Southampton and, currently, a Visiting Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford. He is the author of Ethics, Economics, and the State and the coeditor (with Philip Pettit) of The Good Polity.

Yew-Kwang Ng holds a personal chair in Economics at Monash University in Melbourne, Australia. He is the author of Mesoeconomics: A Micro-Macro Analysis and Social Welfare and Economic Policy (forthcoming). His current research interests include the topics discussed in these works, as well as other issues related to welfare or happiness.

Jonathan Riley is an Assistant Professor of Political Science and Political Economy at Tulane University. He is the author of Liberal Utilitarianism: Social Choice Theory and J.S. Mill's Philosophy, as well as recent articles in Ethics and NOMOS. His current research is on James Madison's political thought.

The Foundations of Social Choice Theory

Jon Elster and Aanund Hylland, Editors

"The volume of essays is enthusiastically recommended to anyone with an interest in social choice theory..." — Canadian Philosophical Review

Hardcover $37.50 Paper $12.95

The Economic Limits to Modern Politics

John Dunn, Editor

The central problem of modern government lies in the choice and implementation of effective economic policies. This volume stresses the historical novelty and intellectual importance of the problem and discusses its origins and solutions. $29.95

Nuts and Bolts for the Social Sciences

Jon Elster

Intended as an introductory survey of the philosophy of the social sciences, this book is a work of exposition that offers a tool box of mechanisms — nuts and bolts, cogs and wheels — that can be used to explain complex social phenomena.

Hardcover $39.50 Paper $9.95

The Popperian Legacy in Economics: Papers Presented at a Symposium in Amsterdam, December 1985

Neil de Marchi, Editor

The contributors analyze why economists have favored Sir Karl Popper's view that science can only comprise efforts to refute empirical hypotheses. They evaluate the view and its alternatives. $37.50

The Standard of Living

Tanner Lectures, Clare Hall, Cambridge 1985

Amartya Sen

Geoffrey Hawthorn, Editor

Argues that "the standard of living" is neither opulence nor utility but the range of "capabilities" offered in a state of affairs. With comments by scholars and replies by Sen.

Hardcover $32.50 Paper $9.95

The Consequences of Economic Rhetoric

Arjo Klamer, Donald McCloskey and Robert M. Solow, Editors

The result of a conference held at Wellesley College, this volume addresses the effects of verbal rhetoric on the field of economics. $39.50

SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY AND POLICY

Edited by Ellen Frankel Paul

Each 192-page issue of Social Philosophy and Policy is devoted to a single topic in social or political philosophy, with specially invited papers (and, for designated issues, unsolicited papers) by leading scholars on the most important issues of our time. The topics for Volume 6 are Capitalism and Socialism. Previous issues have focussed on Distributive Justice, Human Rights, Liberty and Equality, Ethics and Economics, Nuclear Rights/Nuclear Wrongs, Marxism and Liberalism, Philosophy and Law, and Beneficence, Philanthropy and the Public Good, with contributions from such distinguished philosophers as Maurice Cranston, Ronald Dworkin, R. M. Hare, David Gauthier, J. R. Lucas, Amartya Sen, Jon Elster, and G. A. Cohen, among others.

Recent articles include:

Entrepreneurs, Profits and Deserving Market Shares
JOHN CHRISTMAN

Capitalism, Citizenship and Community
STEPHEN MACEDO

Capitalism and Socialism: How Can They be Compared?
PETER RUTLAND

SCIENCE & SOCIETY

An Independent Journal of Marxism

Edited by David Goldway

SCIENCE & SOCIETY is an interdisciplinary journal of Marxist thought and analysis. Now in its 53rd year, it seeks original scholarship in: political economy and the economic analysis of contemporary capitalist and socialist societies; philosophy and methodology in the natural and social sciences; history, labor, black and women's studies; aesthetics, literature and the arts. Especially welcomed is theoretical and applied research which both breaks new ground in a particular discipline and is intelligible and useful to non-specialists.

While the journal does not adhere to any particular school of contemporary Marxist discussion, or attempt to delineate precise boundaries for Marxism, it does encourage contributors, where appropriate, to establish the relationship of their work to the classical writings of Marxism, as well as to the current literature in their subject area.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Article contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to Economics and Philosophy, Department of Economics, Fernald House, Williams College, Williamstown, MA 01267, U.S.A. The journal's editorial office may also be accessed at BITNET address

SMONTGOMERY@WILLIAMS

or at ARPANET address

SMONTGOMERY@VAX.CS.WILLIAMS.EDU.

Please use for correspondence only.

Authors should send four copies of their manuscript and reserve one copy for their use in checking proofs. Articles must be in English. Spelling, capitalization, and punctuation must be consistent within each article and conform with the Thirteenth Edition of The Chicago Manual of Style (University of Chicago Press).

Books for review should be sent to the Book Review Editor: Professor Margaret Schabas, Department of History of Science, 4143 Helen White Hall, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI 53706.

Her BITNET address is

MSCHABAS@WISCMACC.BITNET.

Preparation of manuscript. A separate title page should be prepared carrying the article title, auxiliary short title (not over 50 characters), author's full name (in the form preferred for publication), and author's affiliation (including full mailing address and phone number). Because blind reviewing will be employed, authors are asked to identify themselves only on the title page.

The entire manuscript (including notes and references) should be typed double-spaced on 8½ by 11 inch or A4 paper, with wide margins for copy editing. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively.

Figures. If the manuscript is accepted for publication, the author must provide figures that are ready for photographic reproduction; they cannot be redrawn by the publisher, unless the author pays for the cost of such work. Charts, graphs, or other artwork must be drawn by a professional artist or computer generated on a laser printer, in black ink on white paper, and should remain legible after a 50% reduction. All labels and details on figures should be clearly printed (or done in transfer type of a sans-serif face such as Helvetica).

References and notes. Bibliographic citations in the text must include the author's last name and the date of publication and may include page references: (Bryant, 1980, pp. 335–44). When an author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: "Bryant (1980, pp. 335–44) maintained that" When a work by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: (Kravis, Heston, and Summers, 1978), with subsequent citations of the form (Kravis et al., 1978). When separate works are referred to within the same parentheses, they should be listed in alphabetical order. Those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semicolons: (Fuss and McFadden, 1978; Georgescu-Roegen, 1971, 1976).

Complete bibliographic information for each citation should be included in the list of references. References should be typed in alphabetic order using the style of the following examples:

Arrow, Kenneth J. 1974. The Limits of Organization. New York: Norton.

Bryant, John. 1980. "A Model of Reserves, Bank Runs, and Deposit Insurance." Journal of Banking and Finance 4:355–64.

Fuss, Melvyn, and McFadden, Daniel (editors). 1978. Production Economics: A Dual Approach to Theory and Applications. Amsterdam: North Holland.

Georgescu-Roegen, 1976. "Chamberlain's New Economics and the Unit of Production." In Monopolistic Competition Theory: Studies in Impact, edited by Robert E. Kuenne, pp. 31–62. New York: Wiley.

Titles of journals may not be abbreviated.

When more than an in-text citation is called for, footnotes may be used. These should be numbered consecutively throughout the text and typed at the bottom of the page in which they are cited. Source citations within footnotes follow the same style as citations in text.

Copyediting and proofreading. The publishers reserve the right to copyedit and proofread all articles accepted for publication, but authors will be consulted in the case of any substantial changes. Page proofs of article will be sent to the lead author for correction of typographical errors only.

General. The lead author will receive 25 offprints of his or her article free of charge; additional numbers may be purchased if ordered at proof stage. Submission of an article implies that it has not been published elsewhere. Authors are responsible for obtaining written permission to publish material for which they do not own the copyright. Contributors will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press.
