New books

Polar Portraits by A G E Jones (ISBN 0905355 37 7) published by Caedmon of Whitby, 128 Uppang Lane, Whitby YO21 3JJ. Obtainable direct from publisher post free at £25.50 hardback & £14.50 softback. This volume comprises reprints of 40 papers published in 11 different journals over a period of 26 years. All are scholarly pieces based on original source materials and always presenting new insights. They range from biographies of individual captains and explorers to notes on obscure sealing and whaling voyages. Three quarters of the papers are on Antarctic subjects, which clearly provide the greater fascination for Jones. For anyone interested in polar exploration this is a wonderful pot pourri. The publishers are to be congratulated on their initiative in bringing all this material together in one volume at a reasonable price.

The Quiet Land by F Debenham (ISBN 1 85297 0375) published by Bluntisham Books & Erskine Press. £24.95. These are the Antarctic diaries of a junior scientific member of Scott's second expedition. Debenham had a considerable influence on polar affairs in Britain as he became the first Director of the Scott Polar Research Institute and the first Professor of Geography at the University of Cambridge. The book also contains a brief biography of Debenham.

New ship

The R/V Nathaniel B. Palmer entered Antarctic Service this year to support the US Antarctic Program. As a multi-purpose ice strengthened ship she will provide berths for 37 scientists, with eight laboratories and two climate-controlled chambers. With space for two helicopters, the ship also has oceanographic, geophysical and biological capabilities. She is capable of breaking 1 m of level ice at 3 knots.

Antarctic Treaty

A Group of Experts on Environmental Monitoring met in Buenos Aires 1–4 June. Twenty one Treaty Parties were represented. Their report, including nine recommendations, will be considered at the ATCM in Venice this autumn.
