Notes for Contributors and Subscribers

Policy. The Journal of Linguistics is concerned with all branches of linguistics (including phonetics). Preference is given to articles of general theoretical interest. Contributions are welcomed from linguists in all countries, and not merely from members of the Linguistics Association of Great Britain. The normal language of publication is English, but articles in French and German may also be submitted for consideration by the Editorial Board.

Editorial Address. Professor E. C. Fudge, Department of Linguistics, The University of Hull, Hull HU6 7RX, England.

Books for review should be sent to: Mr. N. B. Vincent, Department of Linguistics, Sidgwick Avenue, Cambridge CB3 9DA, England.

Subscriptions. One volume of the Journal is published each year in two parts. The subscription price which includes postage is £17.00 net, USA and Canada US $49.50. Single parts are also available at £10.50 net each, US $31.00, plus postage. Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be placed with any bookseller or subscription agent, or sent direct to Cambridge University Press, P.O. Box 110, Cambridge CB2 3RL, or, in USA and Canada, Cambridge University Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022, USA.

Claims for the replacement of journals believed to be lost in transmission will only be entertained if made immediately after receipt of the subsequent issue of the Journal.

Copying. This journal is registered with the Copyright Clearance Center, 21 Congress St., Salem, Mass. 01970. Organizations in the USA who are also registered with the C.C.C. may therefore copy material (beyond the limits permitted by sections 107 and 108 of USA copyright law) subject to payment to the C.C.C. of the per-copy fee indicated in the code on the first page of the article. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes.

ISI Tear Service, 3501 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104, USA, is authorized to supply single copies of separate articles for private use only.

For all other use, permission should be sought from the Cambridge or New York offices of the Cambridge University Press.

Style. Intending contributors should ensure that their manuscripts conform to the standards laid down in the LSA Style Sheet (printed periodically in the LSA Bulletin), except in the following respects:

(a) Footnotes should as far as possible be avoided; they should not contain special symbols such as those used in the International Phonetic Alphabet.

(b) Phonetic transcriptions should, wherever possible, make use of the symbols and conventions of the International Phonetic Alphabet, and should be no 'narrower' than is absolutely necessary for the purpose.

(c) Bibliographical references at the end of each article or review should conform to the following models:

Bloomfield, L. (1933). Language. New York: Holt.

Bolinger, D. (1965). The atomization of meaning. Lg 41. 555-573.

Brugmann, K. (1906). Grundriss der vergleichenden Grammatik der indogermanischen Sprachen. 2nd ed., vol. 2, part 1. Strassburg: Trübner.

Chafe, W. L. (1965). Review of Longacre, R. E. Grammar discovery procedures. Lg. 41. 640-647.

Chomsky, N. (1957). Syntactic structures. (Janua Linguarum, 4.) The Hague: Mouton.

Hockett, C. F. (1964). The Proto Central Algonquian kinship system. In Goodenough, W. (ed.) Explorations in cultural anthropology. New York: McGraw-Hill. 239-258.

The following requirements of the LSA Style Sheet which will apply to manuscripts intended for publication in the Journal of Linguistics should be particularly noted:

1. All copy must be double-spaced throughout, and margins of at least 1½ inches should be left on all four sides of each sheet. (LSA style sheet, sections 1(c) and (d)).

2. Tables, charts and diagrams (though not simple rules, examples or formulae) must each appear on a separate sheet, and must be labelled 'Fig. 2', 'Table 4' or the like as appropriate. References in the text to the table or diagram must be made by citing this label, and not in such terms as 'in the diagram following'. (LSA style sheet, sections 1(e) and 1(c)).

3. Typescripts of articles should be submitted in three copies, typescripts of reviews in two copies. Typescripts will not be returned unless postage is provided by contributors (LSA style sheet, section 1(g)).

4. No part of a title or section heading should be underscored: the Editors exercise
