

CONTRIBUTORS

ANAÏS MIODEK BOWRING earned a PhD in Politics from the University of California, Santa Cruz in 2015. Her work on ideological and institutional constraint in American employment policy development sits at the intersection of public policy, political development, and American political thought. She is currently working on a book manuscript, "Why Is There No Right to Employment in America?: Liberal Limits on American Employment Policy, 1933–2000."
anaismiodek@gmail.com

CORNELL W. CLAYTON is the Thomas S. Foley Distinguished Professor of Government at Washington State University. He is Director of the Thomas S. Foley Institute of Policy and Public Service.
cwclayton@wsu.edu

M. HOUSTON JOHNSON V is Assistant Professor of History at the Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Virginia. He received a PhD from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He is Associate Editor of the SAGE Encyclopedia of Military Science (Thousand Oaks, Calif., 2013).
johnsonmh@vmi.edu

CRAIG A. KAPLOWITZ (PhD Vanderbilt) is Chair of the History Department and Director of The Honors Program at Judson University. He is the author of LULAC, Mexican Americans, and National Policy.
ckaplowitz@judsonu.edu

TIMOTHY C. LEECH just completed his PhD from the department of History at Ohio State University. His research in American History focuses on the intersection of political, technological, and military developments.
timothyleech@hotmail.com

AARON J. LEY is Assistant Professor of Political Science and Director of the Master of Public Administration program at the University of Rhode Island.
ajley@uri.edu; <http://orcid.org/0000-0001-5251-137X>

ANDREW RUDALEVIGE is Thomas Brackett Reed Professor of Government at Bowdoin College and past president of the APSA's Presidents and Executive Politics section. He is author of Managing the President's Program and The New Imperial Presidency: Renewing Presidential Power after Watergate as well as numerous articles on presidential management of the executive branch.
arudalev@bowdoin.edu

BETH-ANNE SCHUELKE-LEECH is Assistant Professor of Engineering Management and Entrepreneurship at the University of Windsor. Her research sits at the nexus of technological innovation, engineering, finance, business, and public policy.
basl@uwindsor.ca