Before Sexuality

The Construction of Erotic Experience in the Ancient Greek World

Edited by David M. Halperin, John J. Winkler, and Froma I. Zeitlin

"By freeing themselves from the narrowly biological and sex-centered definition of 'sexuality' that we moderns have come to think of as natural, the collaborators construct a strangely disturbing picture of ancient Greek erotic life—a 'cultural poetics of desire'—that is much more socially pervasive, much more various and complex than hitherto imagined. . . . one of the most timely, provocative and stimulating books about ancient Greece I've read in a long time."

Nothing to Do with Dionysos?

Athenian Drama in Its Social Context

Edited by John J. Winkler and Froma I. Zeitlin

"The more we learn about the original production of tragedies and comedies in Athens the more it seems wrong even to call them plays in the modern sense of the word," write the editors in this collection of critically diverse and innovative essays aimed at restoring the social context of ancient Greek drama.

"This is a genuinely exciting book . . . a landmark in the ongoing movement to expand the methodological horizons of Greek cultural criticism."
