

Political Analysis

www.pan.oxfordjournals.org

Volume 14 Number 3

Summer 2006

Contents

Special Issue on Causal Complexity and Qualitative Methods

- Introduction to the Special Issue "Causal Complexity and Qualitative Methods" 223
Gary Goertz
- A Tale of Two Cultures: Contrasting Quantitative and Qualitative Research 227
James Mahoney and Gary Goertz
- Complex Causal Relations and Case Study Methods: The Example of Path Dependence 250
Andrew Bennett and Colin Elman
- Explaining Variance; Or, Stuck in a Moment We Can't Get Out Of 268
Bear F. Braumoeller
- Set Relations in Social Research: Evaluating Their Consistency and Coverage 291
Charles C. Ragin
- A Simple Multivariate Test for Asymmetric Hypotheses 311
William Roberts Clark, Michael J. Gilligan, and Matt Golder

SYMPOSIUM ON RETHINKING SOCIAL INQUIRY

- Two Methodological Worlds Apart? Praises and Critiques from a European Comparativist 332
Benoît Rihoux
- Beyond the Linear Frequentist Orthodoxy 335
Philip A. Schrodt
- Stirring the Frequentist Pot with a Dash of Bayes 339
Andrew Bennett
- Case Selection: Insights from Rethinking Social Inquiry 344
W. Phillips Shively
- Is Causal-Process Observation an Oxymoron? 347
Nathaniel Beck
- Toward a Pluralistic Vision of Methodology 353
Henry E. Brady, David Collier, and Jason Seawright