

his personal experience, the author discusses the advantages and disadvantages of the system. He thinks the consciousness that they are earning money and that they may aid their families is of excellent effect with certain patients; on the other hand, many of the insane, notably the imbeciles and the alcoholics, misunderstand their position—think they do not receive a just wage, and are discontented. On the whole, the author thinks that the drawbacks outweigh the advantages, and the same opinion seems to be entertained by the majority of asylum superintendents in Austria-Hungary and Germany. Dr. Berze suggests that the present system in Austria be abrogated, that working patients be rewarded, not by payment in money, but by special privileges, and that the money value of their labour, estimated as a whole and in accordance with the old standard, be assigned to a common fund for the relief of the necessitous relatives of patients and for the aid of the patients themselves on discharge. The distribution of this fund should be at the discretion of the asylum physician. This more communistic method would secure, among other advantages, that help should be given to the cases that most need it, viz. acute curable patients, who on the old individualist system would receive little, as they are precisely the cases least capable of performing remunerative work.

In Kierling-Gugging the experiment of letting the patients hire out as labourers has also been tried, but has been abandoned owing to the complaints of unfair competition with free labour.

The Boarding-out of Lunatics in Dun-sur-Auron [Die Familienpflege in Dun-sur-Auron]. (Psychiat. Wochens., No. 1, 1900.) Paetz.

This is an interesting article on the subject. Full details of the housing and supervision of the patients are given, with a general description of the whole system. This has been in actual work since 1892, and in March, 1899, some 700 patients were under treatment in Dun Levet, and the surrounding districts. Up to the present, women only have been thus cared for. The no-restraint system has throughout been maintained. Senile dementia is the commonest form of insanity among the patients, and with the organic dementias constitutes some 45 per cent. of all the cases. Patients with epileptiform seizures, with contractures, and even with hemiplegia are successfully cared for in this way. It is interesting to learn also that suicidal cases can also be treated on this plan, and, indeed, that the average of suicides is rather under that of ordinary asylum statistics. Epilepsy modified by Treatment and Environment, with some Notes of Two Hundred Cases. (Alien. and Neur., Jan., 1900.) Barr, M. W.

Dr. Barr is very sceptical as to ultimate positive cure of idiopathic epilepsy, though he gives the statistics of the Bielefeld and Craig colonies, which record some 6 to 7 per cent. of cures. He is not impressed by the results of surgical interference. Of the powers to
