Belief

Form, Content, and Function

Radu J. Bogdan

This volume of original papers is meant to provide a fair sample of recent philosophical thought on belief. The contributors focus on three major dimensions of belief: the form of its mental realization, its cognitive and behavioural functions, and the semantic and informational aspects of its contents.

Plato's Phaedo

David Bostock

Examines the theories and arguments put forward by Plato in his Phaedo, where he attempts to show that the soul is immortal. The arguments raise a number of important philosophical problems. The book introduces and discusses these problems as they arise from Plato's text.

The Dialogue of Reason

An Analysis of Analytical Philosophy

L. Jonathan Cohen

Looks at how analytical philosophy now embraces a much greater variety of topic, and divergence of opinion, than it did fifty years ago. Asks what presuppositions of relevance are implicit in its dialogue, what patterns of reasoning it relies on, and why consensus is so hard to achieve. The book provides a lucid and penetrating treatment of these fundamental issues.

Experience and its Modes

MICHAEL OAKSHOTT

This classic work, first published in 1933, is being brought out in paperback in recognition of its enduring status.

'... the whole book shows Mr Oakshott to possess philosophical gifts of a very high order, coupled with an admirable command of language; his writing is as clear as his thought is profound, and all students of philosophy should be grateful to him for his brilliant contribution to philosophical literature.'

Expression and Meaning

Studies in the Theory of Speech Acts

JOHN R. SEARLE

'The essays are written with typical Searlean vigour, clarity, and originality. The result is a volume that deserves more than a mealy-mouthed speech act issuance of the "You ought to read it" sort, which could be countered without inconsistency with "But don't bother if you are busy". Instead, I issue a straight directive: "Read it!"'

Information for Authors

Prospective authors should send their contributions, typed and double-spaced on quarto or A4 paper, to the Editor, Mr Renford Bambrough, Royal Institute of Philosophy, 14 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0AG. They should retain a second copy for the purpose of checking proofs. Articles submitted should conform to Hart's Rules for Compositors and Readers (Oxford University Press, 1967). The Editor may alter manuscripts wherever necessary to make them conform to the stylistic and bibliographical conventions of the journal. Single quotation marks should be used except where there is a quotation within another. The titles of books and journals should be underlined (i.e. to be printed in italics), as should foreign words. Titles of articles should be in single quotation marks.

Notes and references will be printed as footnotes and should be typed (double-spacing) on a separate sheet, numbered consecutively. They should be referred to in the text by superscripts. Citations should be as follows:

The return of contributions cannot be guaranteed unless they are accompanied by stamps, or in the case of contributions from abroad, by international coupons, to cover postage. A self-addressed envelope should also be enclosed.

Only corrections of printer's errors can be allowed in proofs. Authors are therefore asked to send any alterations or additions to Mr Bambrough as soon as possible after receiving his letter of acceptance.

Authors of articles, discussion papers and review articles will receive twenty-five offprints free of charge. Additional offprints can be ordered when proofs are returned by arrangement with the Institute.

Books for review should be sent to the Editor at the Institute and not to Cambridge University Press. Publishers are asked to note that non-philosophical works are not reviewed in Philosophy.

Authors' corrected proofs should be sent to Mr Bambrough at St John's College, Cambridge. All other correspondence should be addressed to the Institute and not to any address in Cambridge.
