

AGREEMENT ESTABLISHING THE AFRICAN
CONTINENTAL FREE TRADE AREA
JAMES THUO GATHII*
[May 30, 2019]

Introduction

On May 30, 2019, the Agreement Establishing the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) entered into force for the twenty-four countries that had deposited their instruments of ratification.<sup>1</sup> When the remaining thirty-one member states of the African Union ratify it, the AfCFTA will cover a market of 1.2 billion people and a gross domestic product (GDP) of $2.5 trillion. That would make it the world's largest trade agreement since the World Trade Organization (WTO).<sup>2</sup>

In the first phase, the Agreement Establishing the AfCFTA will form a single continental market for goods and services. To ensure predictability and certainty, the AfCFTA includes a Protocol on Rules and Procedures on the Settlement of Disputes that largely mirrors that of the WTO. Additional AfCFTA commitments are contained in its annexes and appendices.<sup>3</sup> When complete, the second phase of negotiations currently underway will add rules on intellectual property rights, investment, and competition.

Although trade liberalization is at the core of its objectives, the AfCFTA incorporates objectives such as the development of quality infrastructure and industrialization without which the goals of intra-African trade liberalization will be difficult to achieve.<sup>4</sup> For these reasons, the AfCFTA is designated as a flagship project of Agenda 2063, the African Union's fifty-year plan for structural transformation and development in which trade liberalization is only one of several goals.<sup>5</sup>

The AfCFTA embodies the African Union's goal of increasing trade among African states, since only 10 to 12 percent of African trade is between African countries. This is a relatively low level of intraregional trade compared to other regions. In North America, for example, 40 percent of North American trade is within the continent, and 63 percent of West European trade is with other West European nations.<sup>6</sup> The average tariff that African countries impose on imports from other African countries is 13.3 percent.<sup>7</sup> That is a high rate of protection compared to rates in other regions in the world. This means that African countries trade much more easily and readily with the rest of the world than with each other.<sup>8</sup> A primary objective of the AfCFTA is to reverse these trends by improving intra-African trade.

The United Nations Economic Commission on Africa (UNECA), has estimated that in the best case scenario of substantial liberalization under the AfCFTA, intra-African trade will increase from its current level of about 10.2 percent to 15.5 percent between 2010 and 2022. UNECA has also projected that because of the inclusion of commitments on trade facilitation in the AfCFTA, intra-African trade is set to increase by 22 percent by 2025.<sup>9</sup>

Placing the AfCFTA in the Context of Trade Integration in Africa

The 1991 Treaty for the Establishment of the African Economic Community Treaty, the Abuja Treaty, is the immediate precursor of the AfCFTA.<sup>10</sup> Article 4(2)(d) of the Abuja Treaty envisages the formation of a free trade area among African Union member countries as the third stage of the yet to be established African Economic Community. The AfCFTA fulfills this vision of a continental free trade area as well as the African Economic Community's goal of increasing intra-African trade as a step toward self-sustaining economic development in Africa.

The AfCFTA continues a long-standing African commitment of using regional integration as a norm of solidarity and as a defensive response to Africa's marginalization in the global trading system.<sup>11</sup> An immediate impetus of negotiating the AfCFTA has been Africa's exclusion from mega-regional trade agreements among its richer trading partners. In addition, African countries are now faced with the end of preferential trading arrangements with the European Union with the expiration of the Cotonou Agreement in February 2020,<sup>12</sup> and with United States because of the upcoming expiration of the African Growth and Opportunity Act in 2025.<sup>13</sup> In addition, Africa is facing new economic pressures with the rising demand for its natural resources, primarily but not only from China.

Implementing the AfCFTA

The AfCFTA faces some implementation challenges. One of them is that it exists alongside several subregional trade regimes. These include the eight subregional economic communities recognized by the African Union and that have characterized African regionalism in the last several decades.<sup>14</sup> Instead of replacing these subregional regimes, the AfCFTA seeks to build on and consolidate the progress they have already achieved.<sup>15</sup> Coordinating the implementation of the AfCFTA with the trade regimes of these subregional communities will create opportunities and challenges.

The text of the AfCFTA provides that where there are conflicts between provisions of these subregional trade treaties and the AfCFTA, those of the AfCFTA will prevail.<sup>16</sup> While these subregional communities have been relatively successful in gradually eliminating tariffs on internal trade, the level of progress among them is highly variable.<sup>17</sup> Some these subregional communities have not yet established free trade agreements (FTAs), while others have partial FTAs or partial customs unions.<sup>18</sup> Each of the subregional regimes has evolved independently of the others. Another complicating factor is that three of Africa's subregional trade regimes have negotiated the Tripartite Free Trade Agreement (TFTA).<sup>19</sup> When it is ratified by fourteen of the twenty-six member states, the TFTA will consolidate the Common Market for Eastern and Southern Africa (COMESA), East African Community (EAC), and Southern African Development Community (SADC). If the TFTA comes into force, it will add another set of overlapping trade rules among African Union member states and yet another set of trade implementing institutions. While the large number of subregional trade regimes reflects Africa's diversity, they also present distinctive risks of fragmentation that will make it difficult for the AfCFTA to achieve continent-wide uniformity in trade norms and practices.

To balance the commitment to achieving substantial liberalization, on the one hand, and the fact that there are big variations among African economies, on the other, the AfCFTA recognizes the principles of variable geometry and special and differential treatment. Like Africa's subregional trade regimes, the AfCFTA therefore provides flexibility for member states to pursue at slower paces the time-tabled trade commitments and harmonization objectives.<sup>20</sup> In addition, it makes provision for technical assistance, capacity building, and cooperation with a mandate that the soon to be established AfCFTA Secretariat should raise resources to help with its implementation.<sup>21</sup> One other important feature of the AfCFTA is its adoption of a Non-Tariff Barrier Monitoring Mechanism for identifying, reporting, resolving, monitoring, and eliminating non-tariff barriers.<sup>22</sup> Unlike the Dispute Settlement System adopted in the AfCFTA, this Mechanism will allow nonstate actors to report non-tariff barriers, thereby activating a process for their eventual removal.

Conclusion

The AfCFTA was negotiated in less than three years. Slightly more than a year thereafter, it came into force on May 30, 2019, following ratification by twenty-four countries. Only twenty-two countries were required to bring the AfCFTA into force. The speed with which the AfCFTA was negotiated and ratified is significant for a number of reasons. First, trade negotiations on the continent have often taken much longer periods. Second, it is remarkable that African Union member states are making significant trade liberalization commitments at a moment of retreat from multilateral and supranational trade regimes. This momentum may well represent a new willingness to overcome the barriers that have in the past made African integration difficult to sustain.

PART IV GENERAL OBLIGATIONS AND DISCIPLINES

Article 4 Most-Favoured-Nation Treatment

1. With respect to any measure covered by this Protocol, each State Party shall, upon entry into force, accord immediately and unconditionally to services and service suppliers of any other State Party treatment no less favourable than that it accords to like services and service suppliers of any Third Party.
2. Nothing in this Protocol shall prevent a State Party from entering into a new preferential agreement with a Third Party, in accordance with Article V of the GATS provided such agreements do not impede or frustrate the objectives of this Protocol. Such preferential treatment shall be extended to all State Parties on a reciprocal and non-discriminatory basis.
3. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, two (2) or more State Parties may conduct negotiations and agree to liberalise trade in services for specific sectors or sub-sectors in accordance with the objectives in this Protocol. Other State Parties shall be afforded opportunity to negotiate the preferences granted therein on a reciprocal basis.
4. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 2, a State Party shall not be obliged to extend preferences agreed with any Third Party prior to the entry into force of this Protocol, of which that State Party was a member or a beneficiary. A State Party may afford opportunity to the other State Parties to negotiate the preferences granted therein on a reciprocal basis.
5. The provisions of this Protocol shall not be so construed as to prevent any State Party from conferring or according advantages to adjacent countries in order to facilitate exchanges limited to contiguous frontier zones of services that are both locally produced and consumed.
6. A State Party may maintain a measure which is inconsistent with paragraph 1, provided it is listed in the Most Favoured Nation (MFN) exemption list. The agreed list of MFN exemptions shall be annexed to this Protocol. States Parties shall regularly review MFN exemptions, with a view to determining which MFN exemptions can be eliminated.

Article 5 Transparency

1. Each State Party shall, in a medium<sup>5</sup> that is accessible, publish promptly and, except in emergency situations, at the latest by the time of their entry into force, all relevant measures of general application which pertain to or affect the operation of this Protocol. International and regional agreements pertaining to or affecting trade in services to which a State Party is a signatory shall also be published.
2. Each State Party shall notify the Secretariat of any international and regional agreements pertaining to or affecting trade in services with Third Parties to which they are signatory prior to or after entry into force of this Protocol.
3. Each State Party shall promptly and at least annually notify the Secretariat of the introduction of any new, or any changes to, existing laws, regulations or administrative guidelines which significantly affect trade in services under this Protocol.
4. Where a State Party submits a notification to the Secretariat, the latter shall promptly circulate the said notification to all State Parties.
5. Each State Party shall respond promptly to all requests by any other State Party for specific information on any of its measures of general application or international and/or regional agreements within the meaning of paragraph 1. State Parties shall also reply to any question from any other State Party relating to an actual or proposed measure that might substantially affect the operation of this Protocol.

6. Each State Party shall designate the relevant enquiry points to provide State Parties with specific information, upon request, on all such matters related to trade in services as well as those subject to the notification requirement above.

Article 6
Disclosure of Confidential Information

Nothing in this Protocol shall require any State Party to disclose confidential information and data, the disclosure of which would impede law enforcement, or otherwise be contrary to the public interest, or which would prejudice legitimate commercial interests of particular enterprises, public or private.

Article 7
Special and Differential Treatment

In order to ensure increased and beneficial participation in trade in services by all parties, State Parties shall:

- (a) provide special consideration to the progressive liberalisation of service sectors commitments and modes of supply which will promote critical sectors of growth, social and sustainable economic development;
- (b) take into account the challenges that may be encountered by State Parties and may grant flexibilities such as transitional periods, within the framework of action plans, on a case by case basis, to accommodate special economic situations and development, trade and financial needs in implementing this Protocol for the establishment of an integrated and liberalised single market for trade in services; and
- (c) accord special consideration to the provision of technical assistance and capacity-building through continental support programmes.

Article 8
Right to Regulate

Each State Party may regulate and introduce new regulations on services and services suppliers within its territory in order to meet national policy objectives, in so far as such regulations do not impair any rights and obligations arising under this Protocol.

Article 9
Domestic Regulation

1. In sectors where specific commitments are undertaken, each State Party shall ensure that all measures of general application affecting trade in services are administered in a reasonable, objective, transparent and impartial manner.
2. Each State Party shall maintain or institute, as soon as practicable, judicial, arbitral or administrative tribunals or procedures which provide, at the request of an affected service supplier, for the prompt review of, and where justified, appropriate remedies for, administrative decisions affecting trade in services. Where such procedures are not independent of the agency entrusted with the administrative decision concerned, the State Party shall ensure that the procedures in fact provide for an objective and impartial review.
3. Where authorisation is required for the supply of a service liberalised under this Protocol, the competent authorities of a State Party shall, within a reasonable period of time after the submission of an application considered complete under domestic laws and regulations, inform the applicant of the decision concerning the application. At the request of the applicant, the competent authorities of the State Party shall provide, without undue delay, information concerning the status of the application.

Article 10

Mutual Recognition

1. For the purposes of the fulfilment, in whole or in part, of its standards or criteria for the authorisation, licensing or certification of services suppliers, and subject to the requirements of paragraph 3 of this Article, a State Party may recognise the education or experience obtained, requirements met, or licenses or certifications granted in another State Party. Such recognition, which may be achieved through harmonisation or otherwise, may be based upon an agreement or arrangement with the State Party concerned or may be accorded autonomously.
2. A State Party that is a party to an agreement or arrangement of the type referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article, whether existing or future, shall afford adequate opportunity for other interested State Parties to negotiate their accession to such an agreement or arrangement or to negotiate comparable ones with it. Where a State Party accords recognition autonomously, it shall afford adequate opportunity for any other State Party to demonstrate that education, experience, licenses, or certifications obtained or requirements met in that other State Party's territory should be recognised.
3. A State Party shall not accord recognition in a manner which would constitute a means of discrimination between State Parties in the application of its standards or criteria for the authorisation, licensing or certification of service suppliers, or a disguised restriction on trade in services.
4. Each State Party shall:
  - (a) within twelve (12) months from the date on which the Agreement enters into force for it, inform the Secretariat of its existing recognition measures and state whether such measures are based on agreements or arrangements of the type referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article;
  - (b) promptly inform the State Parties through the Secretariat as far in advance as possible of the opening of negotiations on an agreement or arrangement of the type referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article in order to provide adequate opportunity to any other State Party to indicate their interest in participating in the negotiations before they enter a substantive phase; and
  - (c) promptly inform the States Parties through the Secretariat when it adopts new recognition measures or significantly modifies existing ones and state whether the measures are based on an agreement or arrangement of the type referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article.
5. Wherever appropriate, recognition should be based on AfCFTA agreed criteria by State Parties. In appropriate cases, State Parties shall work in cooperation with relevant intergovernmental and non-governmental organisations towards the establishment and adoption of common continental standards and criteria for recognition and common continental standards for the practice of relevant services trades and professions.

Article 11

Monopolies and Exclusive Service Suppliers

1. Each State Party shall ensure that any monopoly supplier of a service in its territory does not, in the supply of the monopoly service in the relevant market, act in a manner inconsistent with that State Party's obligations and specific commitments under this Protocol.
2. Where a State Party's monopoly supplier competes, either directly or through an affiliated company, in the supply of a service outside the scope of its monopoly rights and which is subject to that State Party's specific commitments, the State Party shall ensure that such a supplier does not abuse its monopoly position to act in its territory in a manner inconsistent with such commitments.

3. A State Party which has a reason to believe that a monopoly supplier of a service of any other State Party is acting in a manner inconsistent with paragraphs 1 and 2 of this Article, may request the State Party establishing, maintaining or authorising such supplier to provide specific information concerning the relevant operations.
4. If, after the date of entry into force of this Protocol, a State Party grants monopoly rights regarding the supply of a service covered by its specific commitments, that State Party shall notify the Secretariat no later than three (3) months before the intended implementation of the grant of monopoly rights and the provisions concerning modification of specific commitments will apply.
5. The provisions of this Article shall also apply to cases of exclusive service suppliers where a State Party, formally or in effect:
  - (a) authorises or establishes a small number of service suppliers; and
  - (b) substantially prevents competition among those suppliers in its territory.

Article 12 Anti-competitive Business Practices

1. State Parties recognise that certain business practices of service suppliers, other than those concerning monopolies and exclusive service suppliers, may restrain competition and thereby restrict trade in services.
2. Each State Party shall, at the request of any other State Party, enter into consultations with a view to eliminating practices referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article. The State Party addressed shall respond to such a request and shall cooperate through the supply of publicly available non-confidential information of relevance to the matter in question. The State Party addressed shall also provide other information available to the requesting State Party, subject to its domestic law and to the conclusion of a satisfactory agreement concerning the safeguarding of its confidentiality by the requesting State Party.

Article 13 Payments and Transfers

1. Except under the circumstances envisaged in Article 14 of this Protocol, a State Party shall not apply restrictions on international transfers and payments for current transactions relating to its specific commitments.
2. Nothing in this Protocol shall affect the rights and obligations of the members of the International Monetary Fund under the Articles of Agreement of the Fund, including the use of exchange actions which are in conformity with the Articles of Agreement, provided that a State Party shall not impose restrictions on any capital transactions inconsistently with its specific commitments regarding such transactions, except as provided under Article 14 of this Protocol, or at the request of the Fund.

Article 14 Restrictions to Safeguard the Balance of Payments

1. In the event of serious balance of payments and external financial difficulties or threat thereof, a State Party may adopt or maintain restrictions on trade in services on which it has undertaken specific commitments, including on payments or transfers for transactions related to such commitments. It is recognised that particular pressures on the balance of payments of a State Party in the process of economic development or economic transition may necessitate the use of restrictions to ensure, inter alia, the maintenance of a level of financial reserves adequate for the implementation of its programme of economic development or economic transition.

2. The restrictions referred to in paragraph 1 of this Article shall:
  - (a) not discriminate among State Parties;
  - (b) be consistent with the Articles of Agreement of the International Monetary Fund;
  - (c) avoid unnecessary damage to the commercial, economic and financial interests of any other State Party;
  - (d) not exceed those necessary to deal with the circumstances described in paragraph 1 of this Article; and
  - (e) be temporary and be phased out progressively as the situation specified in paragraph 1 of this Article improves.
3. In determining the incidence of such restrictions, State Parties may give priority to the supply of services which are more essential to their economic or development programmes. However, such restrictions shall not be adopted or maintained for the purpose of protecting a particular service sector.
4. Any restrictions adopted or maintained under paragraph 1 of this Article, or any changes therein, shall be promptly notified to the Secretariat.
5. State Parties applying the provisions of this Article shall consult promptly within the Committee on Trade in Services on restrictions adopted under this Article.
6. The Committee on Trade in Services shall establish procedures for periodic consultations with the objective of enabling such recommendations to be made to the State Party concerned as it may deem appropriate.
7. Such consultations shall assess the balance-of-payment situation of the State Party concerned and the restrictions adopted or maintained under this Article, taking into account, inter alia, such factors as:
  - (a) the nature and extent of the balance-of-payments and the external financial difficulties;
  - (b) the external economic and trading environment of the consulting State Party; and
  - (c) alternative corrective measures which may be available.
8. The consultations shall address the compliance of any restrictions with paragraph 2 of this Article, in particular the progressive phase-out of restrictions in accordance with paragraph 2(e) of this Article.
9. In such consultations, all findings of statistical and other facts presented by the International Monetary Fund relating to foreign exchange, monetary reserves and balance of payments, shall be accepted and conclusions shall be based on the assessment by the Fund of the balance-of-payments and the external financial situation of the consulting State Party.
10. If a State Party which is not a member of the International Monetary Fund wishes to apply the provisions of this Article, the Council of Ministers shall establish a review procedure and any other procedures necessary.

Article 15 General Exceptions

Subject to the requirement that such measures are not applied in a manner which would constitute a means of arbitrary or unjustifiable discrimination between State Parties where like conditions prevail, or a disguised restriction on trade in services, nothing in this Protocol shall be construed to prevent the adoption or enforcement by any State Party of measures:

- (a) necessary to protect public morals or to maintain public order<sup>6</sup>;
- (b) necessary to protect human, animal or plant life or health;

- (c) necessary to secure compliance with laws or regulations which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Protocol including those relating to:
  - i. the prevention of deceptive and fraudulent practices or to deal with the effects of a default on services contracts;
  - ii. the protection of the privacy of individuals in relation to the processing and dissemination of personal data and the protection of confidentiality of individual records and accounts;
  - iii. safety;
- (d) inconsistent with National Treatment, provided that the difference in treatment is aimed at ensuring the equitable or effective imposition or collection of direct taxes in respect of services or service suppliers of other States Parties; and<sup>7</sup>
- (e) inconsistent with the Most Favoured Nation obligation provided that the difference in treatment is the result of an agreement on avoidance of double taxation or provisions on the avoidance of double taxation in any other international agreement or arrangement by which the State Party is bound.

Article 16 Security Exceptions

1. Nothing in this Protocol shall be construed:
  - (a) to require any State Party to furnish any information, the disclosure of which it considers contrary to its essential security interests; or
  - (b) to prevent any State Party from taking any action which it considers necessary for the protection of its essential security interests:
    - i. relating to the supply of services as carried out directly or indirectly for the purpose of provisioning a military establishment;
    - ii. relating to fissionable and fusionable materials or the materials from which they are derived; and
    - iii. taken in time of war or other emergency in international relations; or
  - (c) to prevent any State Party from taking any action in pursuance of its obligations under the United Nations Charter for the maintenance of international peace and security.
2. The Secretariat shall be informed, to the fullest extent possible, of measures taken under paragraphs 1(b) and 1(c) of this Article, and of their termination.

Article 17 Subsidies

1. Nothing in this Protocol shall be construed to prevent State Parties from using subsidies in relation to their development programmes.
2. State Parties shall decide on mechanisms for information exchange and review of all subsidies related to trade in services that State Parties provide to their domestic service suppliers.
3. Any State Party which considers that it is adversely affected by a subsidy of another State Party may request consultations with that State Party on such matters. Such requests shall be accorded sympathetic consideration.

PART V
PROGRESSIVE LIBERALISATION

Article 18
Progressive Liberalisation

1. State Parties shall undertake successive rounds of negotiations based on the principle of progressive liberalisation accompanied by the development of regulatory cooperation, and sectoral disciplines, taking into account the objectives of the 1991 Abuja Treaty that aim to strengthen integration at the regional and continental levels in all fields of trade, and in line with the general principle of progressivity towards achievement of the ultimate goal of the African Economic Community.
2. State Parties shall negotiate sector specific obligations through the development of regulatory frameworks for each of the sectors, as necessary, taking account of the best practices and acquis from the RECs, as well as the negotiated agreement on sectors for regulatory cooperation. State Parties agree that negotiations for continuing the process shall commence following the establishment of the AfCFTA, based on the work programme to be agreed by the Committee on Trade in Services.
3. The liberalisation process shall focus on the progressive elimination of the adverse effects of measures on trade in services as a means of providing effective market access with a view to boosting intra-African trade in services.
4. The list of Priority Sectors and the Modalities on Trade in Services shall be annexed to this Protocol and shall form an integral part hereof.
5. The Transitional Implementation Work Programme developed by Member States shall guide the finalisation of outstanding Phase I negotiations on this Protocol, before the entry into force of the Agreement.

Article 19
Market Access

1. 2. In sectors where market-access commitments are undertaken, the measures which a State Party shall not maintain or adopt either on the basis of a regional subdivision or on the basis of its entire territory, unless otherwise specified in its Schedule, are defined as:
  - (a) limitations on the number of service suppliers whether in the form of numerical quotas, monopolies, exclusive service suppliers or the requirements of an economic needs test;
  - (b) limitations on the total value of service transactions or assets in the form of numerical quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;
  - (c) limitations on the total number of service operations or on the total quantity of service output expressed in terms of designated numerical units in the form of quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;<sup>9</sup>
  - (d) limitations on the total number of natural persons that may be employed in a particular service sector or that a service supplier may employ and who are necessary for, and directly related to, the supply of a specific service in the form of numerical quotas or the requirement of an economic needs test;
  - (e) measures which restrict or require specific types of legal entity or joint venture through which a service supplier may supply a service; and

- (f) limitations on the participation of foreign capital in terms of maximum percentage limit on foreign shareholding or the total value of individual or aggregate foreign investment.

Article 20 National Treatment

1. In all sectors inscribed in the schedule, and subject to any conditions and qualifications set out therein, each State Party shall accord to services and service suppliers of any other State Party treatment no less favourable than that it accords to its own like services and service suppliers, subject to the conditions and qualifications agreed and specified in its Schedule of Specific Commitments.
2. A State Party may meet the requirement of paragraph 1 of this Article, by according to services and service suppliers of any other State Party either formally identical treatment or formally different treatment to that it accords to its own like services and service suppliers.
3. Formally identical or formally different treatment shall be considered to be less favourable if it modifies the conditions of competition in favour of services or service suppliers of the State Party compared to like services or service suppliers of any other State Party.

Article 21 Additional Commitments

The State Parties may negotiate commitments with respect to measures affecting trade in services not subject to scheduling under Articles 19 or 20 of this Protocol, including but not limited to those regarding qualification, standards or licensing matters. Such commitments shall be inscribed in a State Party's Schedule of Specific Commitments.

Article 22 Schedules of Specific Commitments

1. Each State Party shall set out in a schedule, the specific commitments that it undertakes under Articles 19, 20 and 21 of this Protocol.
2. With respect to sectors where such commitments are undertaken, each Schedule of Specific Commitments shall specify:
  - (a) terms, limitations and conditions on market access;
  - (b) conditions and qualifications on national treatment;
  - (c) undertakings relating to additional commitments; and
  - (d) where appropriate the time-frame for implementation of such commitments, including their date of entry into force.
3. Measures inconsistent with both Articles 19 and 20 of this Protocol shall be inscribed in the column relating to Article 19 of this Protocol. In this case the inscription will be considered to provide a condition or qualification to Article 20 of this Protocol as well.
4. The Schedules of Specific Commitments, the Modalities for Trade in Services and the list of Priority Sectors shall, upon adoption, form an integral part of this Protocol.
5. The Transitional Implementation Work Programme developed by Member States shall guide the finalisation of outstanding Phase I negotiations on this Protocol, before the entry into force of the Agreement.

Article 23 Modification of Schedules of Specific Commitments

1. A State Party (referred to in this Article as the "modifying State Party") may modify or withdraw any commitment in its schedule, at any time after three years have elapsed from the date on which that commitment entered into force, in accordance with the provisions of this Article.
2. A modifying State Party shall notify its intent to modify or withdraw a commitment pursuant to this Article to the Secretariat no later than three (3) months before the intended date of implementation of the modification or withdrawal. The Secretariat shall promptly circulate this information to State Parties.
3. At the request of any State Party the benefits of which under this Protocol may be affected (referred to in this Article as an "affected State Party"), by a proposed modification or withdrawal notified under paragraph 2 of this Article, the modifying State Party shall enter into negotiations with a view to reaching agreement on any necessary compensatory adjustment. In such negotiations and agreement, the State Parties concerned shall endeavour to maintain a general level of mutually advantageous commitments not less favourable to trade than that provided for in commitments prior to such negotiations.
4. Compensatory adjustments shall be made on a most-favoured-nation basis.
5. If agreement is not reached between the modifying State Party and any affected State Party before the end of the period provided for negotiations, such affected State Party may refer the matter to dispute settlement. Any affected State Party that wishes to enforce a right that it may have to compensation must participate in the dispute process.
6. If no affected State Party has requested dispute settlement, the modifying State Party shall be free to implement the proposed modification or withdrawal, within a reasonable period of time.
7. The modifying State Party may not modify or withdraw its commitment until it has made compensatory adjustments in conformity with the findings of the dispute settlement.
8. If the modifying State Party implements its proposed modification or withdrawal and does not comply with the findings of the arbitration, any affected State Party that participated in the dispute settlement may modify or withdraw substantially equivalent benefits in conformity with those findings. Notwithstanding the obligations under Article 4 of this Protocol, such a modification or withdrawal may be implemented solely with respect to the modifying State Party.
9. The Committee on Trade in Services shall facilitate such negotiations and establish related appropriate procedures.

Article 24 Denial of Benefits

Subject to prior notification and consultation, a State Party may deny the benefits of this Protocol to service suppliers of another State Party where the service is being supplied by a juridical person of a non-State Party, without real and continuous link with the economy of the State Party or with negligible or no business operations in the territory of the other State Party or any other State Party.

5. In considering what concessions or other obligations to suspend, the Complaining Party shall apply the following principles and procedures:
  - (a) the general principle is that the Complaining Party should first seek to suspend concessions or other obligations with respect to the same sector(s) as that in which the Panel or AB has found a violation or other nullification or impairment;
  - (b) if that Party considers that it is not practicable or effective to suspend concessions or other obligations with respect to the same sector(s), it may seek to suspend concessions or other obligations in other sectors under the Agreement;
  - (c) if that Party considers that it is not practicable or effective to suspend concessions or other obligations with respect to other sectors under this agreement, and that the circumstances are serious enough, it may seek to suspend concessions or other obligations under the Agreement; and
  - (d) if that Party to a dispute decides to request authorisation to suspend concessions or other obligations pursuant to subparagraphs (b) or (c), it shall state the reasons thereof in its request to the DSB.
6. In applying the above principles that party shall take into account:
  - (a) the trade in the sector under which the Panel or Appellate Body has found a violation or other nullification or impairment, and the importance of such trade to that party; and
  - (b) the broader economic elements related to the nullification or impairment and the broader economic consequences of the suspension of concessions or other obligations.
7. The level of the suspension of concessions or other obligations authorised by the DSB shall be equivalent to the level of the nullification or impairment.
8. When the situation described in paragraph 4 of this Article occurs, the DSB, shall grant authorisation to suspend concessions or other obligations within thirty (30) days from the date of request unless the DSB decides by consensus to reject the request. However, if the State Party concerned objects to the level of suspension proposed, or claims that the principles and procedures set forth in paragraph 5 have not been followed where a complaining party has requested authorisation to suspend concessions or other obligations pursuant to paragraph 5(b) or (c) of this Article, the matter shall be referred to arbitration. Such arbitration shall be carried out by the original Panel, if Panellists are available, or by an arbitrator appointed by the chairperson of the DSB and shall be completed within sixty (60) days from the date of appointment of the arbitrator. Concessions or other obligations shall not be suspended during the course of the arbitration.

9. The arbitrator acting pursuant to paragraph 7 of this Article, shall not examine the nature of the concessions or other obligations to be suspended but shall determine whether the level of such suspension is equivalent to the level of nullification or impairment. The arbitrator may also determine if the proposed suspension of concessions or other obligations is allowed under the Agreement. However, if the matter referred to arbitration includes a claim that the principles and procedures set forth in paragraph 3 of this Article, have not been followed, the arbitrator shall examine that claim. In the event the arbitrator determines that those principles and procedures have not been followed, the complaining party shall apply them consistent with paragraph 5 of this Article. The Parties to a dispute shall accept the arbitrator's decision as final and the parties concerned shall not seek a second arbitration. The DSB shall be informed promptly of the decision of the arbitrator and shall upon request, grant authorisation to suspend concessions or other obligations where the request is consistent with the decision of the arbitrator, unless the DSB decides by consensus to reject the request.

Article 26 Costs

1. The DSB shall determine the remuneration and expenses of the Panellists, arbitrators and experts in accordance with the financial rules and regulations of the AU.
2. The remuneration of the Panellists, arbitrators and experts, their travel and lodging expenses, shall be borne in equal parts by the Parties to a dispute, or in proportions determined by the DSB.
3. A Party to a dispute shall bear all other costs of the process as determined by the DSB.
4. Parties to the dispute shall be required to deposit their share of the Panellists' expenses with the Secretariat at the time of establishment, or composition of the Panel.

Article 27 Arbitration

1. Parties to a dispute may resort to arbitration subject to their mutual agreement and shall agree on the procedures to be used in the arbitration proceedings.
2. Parties to a dispute who may have referred a dispute for arbitration pursuant to this Article shall not simultaneously refer the same matter to the DSB.
3. Agreement by the Parties to resort to arbitration shall be notified to the DSB.
4. Third Parties shall be joined to an arbitration proceeding only upon the agreement of the Parties to the arbitration proceedings.
5. The Parties to an arbitration proceeding shall abide by the arbitration award and the award shall be notified to the DSB for enforcement.
6. In the event of a Party to a dispute refusing to cooperate, the Complaining Party shall refer the matter to the DSB for determination.
7. Arbitration awards shall be enforced in accordance with the provisions of Articles 24 and 25 of this Protocol mutatis mutandis.
