The authors would like to add ‘how’ to the first sentence of the abstract in order to clarify the of the article’s statement. Therefore, it should read:

“Drawing upon the conservation of resources theory and self-determination theory, this study examines the subjective social status (SSS) of employees and how it moderates the two-way interaction effect of job insecurity and perceived organizational politics on the types of silence (i.e., acquiescent, and defensive silence [DS])”.

The change has now been updated in the PDF and HTML versions of the article. The author apologises for the omission.
