MORALITY AS A BIOLOGICAL PHENOMENON
Edited by Gunther S. Stent

"Since I have read so many books debating the sociobiological thesis of the biological evolution of morality, I had thought that little remained to be said on the subject, but I was wrong. Stent's book does something different and, in doing so, manages to say some new things worth listening to." —Arnold W. Ravin

Forms of Explanation
Rethinking the Questions in Social Theory
Alan Garfinkel

In a lively and readable discussion, Garfinkel argues that the key to understanding an explanation is to discover what question is really being answered. He then suggests criteria for a good explanation and goes on to examine some classic explanations in social and natural science.

"Garfinkel connects substantive examples and controversies in social theory with deep philosophical questions about explanation in an exciting way."—Hilary Putnam $16.00

Typescript. Typescript, double-spaced, should be submitted (in triplicate) to Professor Robert E. Butts, Department of Philosophy, Talbot College, University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario, Canada N6A 3K7. Typescripts will not be returned unless return postage is prepaid by cheque, money order, International Reply Coupons or Canadian stamps. A bibliographical list of cited references beginning with the author's last name, initials, followed by the year of publication in parentheses, should be headed 'References' and placed on a separate sheet in alphabetical order. Simple citations should then be made by employing in the text, rather than by footnote, the reference list by citing author and year of publication, e.g., Jones (1958) or (Smith 1974, p. 46). A detailed guide to the new reference style appears in the March issue of each year. Discursive footnotes should be numbered consecutively throughout the typescript. Typescript should not exceed thirty-five double-spaced pages. Longer essays will be returned to the author(s) to be cut to the acceptable maximum. A summary abstract of approximately 100 words should accompany each article. All illustrations must be professionally drawn and lettered. All formulas and equations should be put in such a form as to help minimize the number of printed lines in the journal. In the following examples the form on the right is preferable to that on the left:

(1) $p = -\frac{dx}{dy} = -\frac{dz}{dt}$ $\qquad p = -dx/dy = -dz/dt$

(2) $\frac{1}{x}\prod_{n=1}^{\infty}\frac{\left(1+\frac{1}{v}\right)^n}{1+\frac{x}{v}}$ $\qquad 1/x\prod_{n=1}^{\infty}(1+1/v)^n/1+x/v$

Page charges. There is a two dollar per page publication charge for individuals who are not members of the Philosophy of Science Association.
