

2015

Canadian Association of Law Libraries
52nd Annual Conference (CALL 2015)

TURNING THE TIDE / RENVERSER LA MARÉE is the theme for the CALL/ACBD 2015 Conference. The extended economic downturn has had wide-ranging effects on law libraries and the practice of law librarianship. We will explore ways in which libraries are confronting the new economic realities and are successfully turning the tide. We will examine ways in which we can improve all our various environments, from the micro work-office level to the macro industry level. We will see how law and law libraries can be transformative in nature and will look to the future to develop solutions ahead of the waves. Let's meet and surf the opportunities by TURNING THE TIDE at the CALL/ACBD 2015 Conference!

4th Annual International Conference on Language, Literature, and Linguistics

Language is at a nexus of interrelationships between individuals, society and culture. The interface between language and literature has been the object of considerable interdisciplinary research on methods of analysis that can be applied across the two fields and their sub-areas. Less research has focused, however, on the influence of the new technologies on this interface, which transcends borders and cultures, with the process of translation adding yet another dimension to the already complex picture.

The 4th Annual International Conference on L3 will examine the various issues and factors that intervene at the interface of language and literature, not least the cultural context(s) in which it is situated.

OR 2015: Open Repositories Conference

10th International Conference on Open Repositories

The conference theme is LOOKING BACK, MOVING FORWARD: OPEN REPOSITORIES AT THE CROSSROADS. It is an opportunity to reflect on and to celebrate the transformative changes in repositories, scholarly communication, and research data over the last decade. More critically, however, it will also help to ensure that open repositories continue to play a key role in supporting, shaping, and sharing those changes and an open agenda for research and scholarship.

International Association of University Libraries (IATUL)
36th Annual Conference: Strategic Partnerships for Access and Discovery

The 36th Annual IATUL Conference will be held under the heading "Strategic Partnerships for Access and Discovery". The information business has always been about a network of partners working together in library arenas, rather than individual libraries working in isolation. It is abundantly clear that such collaborations are of great strategic importance, especially when it comes to making access to scientific information easier and faster than ever before—for the benefit of our users.

You can look forward to talks by speakers at the cutting edge of current developments, who will reveal what direction library strategy, management and practice may take. You can also expect absorbing panel discussions, informative workshops and posters, an interesting exhibition as well as an attractive events programme.
