

THE FRANCIS DEÁK PRIZE

The Board of Editors is pleased to announce that the Francis Deák Prize for 2011 was awarded to Máximo Langer for his article entitled The Diplomacy of Universal Jurisdiction: The Political Branches and the Transnational Prosecution of International Crimes, which appeared in the January 2011 issue.

The Francis Deák Prize for 2010 was awarded to Anthea Roberts for her article entitled Power and Persuasion in Investment Treaty Interpretation: The Dual Role of States, which appeared in the April 2010 issue. Announcement of the 2010 award was inadvertently omitted from the July 2011 issue.

The prize was established by Philip Cohen in memory of Dr. Francis Deák, an international legal scholar and lifelong member of the American Society of International Law, to honor a younger author who has published a meritorious contribution to international legal scholarship in the American Journal of International Law.

NOMINATIONS FOR THE BOARD OF EDITORS

The Nominating Committee of the American Journal of International Law's Board of Editors invites nominations for members of the Board of Editors to be elected in the spring of 2013. Nominations are based primarily on scholarship and creativity, as demonstrated in books, articles, and other written work appearing over a period of years, including, but not limited to, publications in the Journal. Other factors taken into account include areas of expertise or professional perspective or discipline.

Suggestions, along with supporting statements and information, such as a curriculum vitae, a list of publications, and, if possible, copies of significant publications, should be sent by September 15, 2012, to the AJIL Nominating Committee Chair, c/o either of the Co-Editors in Chief:
