

Fellowships and Grants

IN GENERAL, THE MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION OFFERS NO GRANTS OR FELLOWSHIPS of any kind. Current graduate students, however, may qualify for financial assistance to attend the annual convention. For details, see A Concise Guide to Activities and Services, in this issue. The following list provides an overview of fellowship and grant programs; potential applicants should write to the foundations for complete information on procedures and requirements. The list omits prize contests and a number of purely literary fellowships. Larger, more inclusive lists include Annual Register of Grant Support (New Providence: Bowker); Directory of Research Grants (Phoenix: Oryx); Financial Aid for Minorities in Education (Garrett Park: Garrett Park); The Foundation Directory (New York: Foundation Center); The Foundation Grants Index (New York: Foundation Center); Fulbright and Other Grants for Graduate Study Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.); Directory of Graduate Programs, Vol. D: Arts and Humanities (New York: Warner); Virginia P. White, Grants: How to Find Out about Them and What to Do Next (New York: Plenum); The Grants Register (New York: St. Martin's); Scholarships, Fellowships, and Loans (Detroit: Gale); Study Abroad (Lanham: Unipub); and Teaching Abroad (New York: Inst. of Intl. Educ.). The Linguistic Society of America (1325 18th St., NW, Suite 211, Washington, DC 20036-6501; 202 835-1714; <http://www.lsadc.org>) publishes the Guide to Grants and Fellowships in Linguistics. Information on philanthropic foundations, books on fellowships and grants, and periodicals such as Foundation Grants to Individuals (a biannual) and the Foundation Grants Index Quarterly may be obtained by writing or calling the Foundation Center, 79 5th Ave., 2nd floor, New York, NY 10003-3076 (212 620-4230; <http://fdncenter.org>).

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN BERLIN: Invites applications for its fellowships for the 2009–10 academic year. The academy is a private, nonprofit center for advanced research in a range of academic, cultural, and professional areas. It welcomes scholars, writers, and professionals who wish to engage in independent study in Berlin for an academic semester or, in rare cases, for an entire academic year. In the case of the Bosch Berlin Prize in Public Policy, shorter stays of six to eight weeks may be arranged. Fellowship benefits include round-trip airfare, comfortable accommodations in the Hans Arnhold Center, partial board, and a stipend ranging from $4,000 to $5,000 per month. Fellows are expected to be in residence during the entire term of the award. Candidates are expected to have completed a doctorate or equivalent professional degree at the time of application and must be United States citizens or permanent residents. The deadline for applications is 13 October 2008. Application forms and further information may be obtained from the academy's Web site (<http://www.americanacademy.de>) or by writing or calling the American Academy in Berlin, Am Sandwerder 17–19, 14109 Berlin, Germany (49 30 804 83-0; fax: 49 30 804 83-111; applications@americanacademy.de).

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME: Each year, through a national competition, the Rome Prize is awarded to fifteen emerging artists (working in architecture, landscape architecture, design, historic preservation and conservation, literature, musical composition, or visual arts) and fifteen scholars (working in ancient, medieval, Renaissance and early modern, or modern Italian studies). The fellowships are designed for emerging artists and for scholars in the early or middle stages of their careers. For scholars, preference will be given to applicants for whom research time in Italy, and especially in Rome, is essential and who have not had extensive prior experience there. The application deadline is 1 November. Each Rome Prize winner is provided with a stipend, meals, a bedroom with private bath, and a study or studio. All winners of eleven-month fellowships receive a stipend of at least $23,000. Applicants for all Rome Prize fellowships, except those applying for the NEH postdoctoral fellowship, must be United States citizens at the time of application. US citizens and those foreign nationals who have lived in the United States for the three years immediately preceding the application deadline may apply for the NEH postdoctoral fellowships. Graduate students in the humanities may apply only for predoctoral fellowships. To learn more about eligibility requirements and to apply, please visit the academy's Web site (<http://www.aarome.org>) or write to American Academy in Rome, 7 East 60 St., New York, NY 10022 (212 751-7200; info@aarome.org).

SELECTED WRITINGS

A Bilingual Edition

Marguerite de Navarre

Edited and Translated by Rouben Cholakian and Mary Skemp

An astute politician and diligent humanist, Marguerite de Navarre (1492–1549) was a champion of gender equality and the evangelical reform movement. From verse letters and fables to mythological-pastoral tales, Selected Writings reveals Marguerite de Navarre to be one of the most important writers of sixteenth-century France.

MEMOIRS

Marie Mancini and Hortense Mancini

Edited and Translated by Sarah Nelson

The memoirs of Hortense (1646–1699) and of Marie (1639–1715) Mancini, nieces of the powerful Cardinal Mazarin and members of the court of Louis XIV, represent the earliest examples in France of memoirs published by women under their own names during their lifetimes.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY AND OTHER WRITINGS

Ana de San Bartolomé

Edited and Translated by Darcy Donahue

Ana de San Bartolomé (1549–1626), a contemporary and close associate of St. Teresa of Ávila, typifies the curious blend of religious activism and spiritual forcefulness that characterized the first generation of Discalced, or reformed, Carmelites. Bartolomé's writings give modern readers fascinating insights into the nature of monastic life.

Breaking the Rules draws upon the British Library's unrivalled collection of artists' books, manifestos, little magazines, literary manuscripts, sound recordings, and posters from across Europe in order to explore the rapid exchange of ideas through printed matter that marked the avant-garde movement.

PAPER $30.00

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS • www.press.uchicago.edu

Classical Society of the American Academy in Rome: Offers three scholarships, two of $3,500 each, one to a graduate student and one to a school teacher of classical languages or classical civilization, and one of $3,000, to attend the academy's classical summer school in Rome. Write to Anne Laidlaw, 415 Wingate Road, Baltimore, MD 21210 (labidlaw@juno.com) or download applications from the link at the bottom of the academy's Web page (<http://www.aarome.org>) under summer programs to the CSAAR. The deadline is 15 January.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES POSTDOCTORAL AND JUNIOR FACULTY FELLOWSHIPS: The American Academy of Arts and Sciences invites applications for research fellowships at its new Visiting Scholars Program. Fields of study include humanities, social sciences, statistics, international relations, law, science policy, public policy, and related areas. Strong preference will be given to proposals related to the academy's program areas: science and global security; social policy and American institutions; humanities and culture; and education. Interdisciplinary and cross-national studies are encouraged. In addition to conducting individual research, fellows will participate in conferences, seminars, and events at the academy. The stipend is $35,000 for postdoctoral scholars, $50,000 for junior faculty members. The postmark deadline for applications is 13 October. For details, contact the Visiting Scholars Program, American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 136 Irving St., Cambridge, MA 02138-1996 (617 576-5034; fax: 617 576-5050; vsc@amacad.org). Application information is available on the academy's Web site (<http://www.amacad.org>).

AMERICAN ANTIQUARIAN SOCIETY: The society (AAS), a national research library of American history, literature, and culture through 1876, annually awards short-term visiting academic research fellowships tenable for one to three months each year. AAS also offers long-term fellowships, intended for scholars beyond the doctorate, funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The AAS-NEH fellowships provide four to twelve months of support for scholars in residence at the Society's library in Worcester, MA. The twelve-month stipend is $40,000. The following short-term fellowships are available for scholars holding the PhD and for doctoral candidates engaged in dissertation research. Candidates holding a recognized terminal degree appropriate to the area of proposed research, such as the master's degree in library science or MFA, are also eligible to apply. A single form is used to apply for short-term fellowships offered by the society in each of the categories below; application materials for all AAS fellowships are available from the society's Web site (www.americanantiquarian.org). The Kate B. and Hall J. Peterson Fellowships and the Legacy Fellowship are for research on any topic supported by the society's collections; these awards are open to individuals engaged in scholarly research and writing, including doctoral candidates and foreign nationals. The Joyce Tracy Fellowship supports research on newspapers and magazines or for projects using these resources as primary documentation. The Stephen Botein Fellowships provide support for research in the history of the book in American culture. The Reese Fellowships support research in American bibliography and projects in the history of the book in American culture. AAS-Northeast Modern Language Association Fellowships are for research in the literary history of America and the Atlantic world in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries that can be supported by the collections of the American Antiquarian Society. Doctoral candidates are not eligible, and NEMLA membership is required in order to take up the fellowship (but not to apply). AAS-American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies Fellowships are for research on projects related to the American eighteenth century. Degree candidates are not eligible. ASECS membership is required for taking up an award but not for making an application. AAS offers several short-term fellowships for scholars using graphic arts and other visual culture materials. The American Historical Print Collectors Society Fellowship is for research on American prints of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, or for projects using prints as primary documentation. The "Drawn to Art" Fellowship supports research on American art, visual culture, or other projects that will make substantial use of graphic materials as primary sources. The Jay and Deborah Last Fellowships also support research on American art, visual culture, or other projects that will make substantial use of graphic materials as primary sources. Doctoral candidates and postdoctoral scholars (and non-US nationals) are eligible to apply for these graphic arts-related fellowships. The stipends for all short-term AAS fellowships are $1,700 per month, with fellowships available for a tenure of one to three months. The application deadline for both the short-term fellowships and the AAS-NEH long-term fellowships is 15 January. Holding a fellowship is not a prerequisite for doing research at AAS. Interested scholars should visit the AAS Web site at www.americanantiquarian.org. Write or call the Director of Academic Programs, American Antiquarian Society, 185 Salisbury St., Worcester, MA 01609 (508 755-2158; fax: 508 754-9069).

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION: Program brochures are available in July, applications in August. Write or call the foundation, PO Box 4030, Iowa City, IA 52243-4030 (319 337-1716; <http://www.aauw.org>).

American Fellowships: One-year fellowships for women who are citizens or permanent residents of the US and who are in their final year of writing the dissertation or are conducting research at the postdoctoral level. The request deadline is 1 November. Postmark deadline is 15 November.

Career Development Grants: Awarded to women who, through higher education, are reentering the work force, making a career change, or advancing their current career. The request deadline is 1 December. Applications are due 15 December.

International Fellowships: Support qualified women from abroad who wish to undertake advanced studies or research in the US. Applicants must hold the equivalent of a bachelor's degree. The request deadline is 15 November. Postmark deadline is 15 December.

Selected Professions Fellowships: Awarded to women for graduate study in designated fields where female participation has been low. The request deadline is 20 December. Applications are due 10 January.

Community Action Grants: Provide funds for programs or non-degree research projects that promote education and equity for women and girls. Postmark deadline is 15 January.

AMERICAN CLASSICAL LEAGUE: Teacher-training scholarships are awarded to candidates training for certification to teach Latin. The maximum award is $1,000. Applicants must be members of the American Classical League. Write to the American Classical League, Maureen V. O'Donnell Scholarships, Miami Univ., Oxford, OH 45056. The deadlines are 1 December (for spring semester) and 1 March (for summer or fall semesters).

AMERICAN COUNCIL OF LEARNED SOCIETIES FELLOWSHIPS AND GRANTS: Various programs to advance research in the humanities and related social sciences. Except for dissertation fellowships in American art history and in Southeast European studies, dissertation completion fellowships, East Asian summer dissertation seminar scholarships, and grants for Southeast European language training, all applicants must have the doctorate or equivalent in publications and professional experience. Application forms for most programs administered by the ACLS must be submitted through the ACLS Online Fellowship Application system (OFA). OFA is accessible at <http://ofa.acls.org> or through the Fellowship and Grants section of the ACLS Web site. Contact the Office of Fellowships and Grants, ACLS (fellowships@acsls.org; <http://www.acls.org>).

ACLS Fellowships: Includes ACLS/SSRC/NEH International and Area Studies Fellowships (for scholars pursuing research on the societies and cultures of Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America and the Caribbean, Eastern Europe, and the former Soviet Union) and ACLS/New York Public Library Residential Fellowships. Approximately sixty-five awards, with maximum stipends of $30,000 for scholars at the assistant professor level, $40,000 for scholars at the associate professor level, and $60,000 for scholars at the full professor level, for conducting research projects in the humanities and humanities-related social sciences. Fellows must devote six to twelve continuous months to full-time work on their projects. Awards will be announced in April. The deadline is 2 October.

Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships: For recently tenured scholars engaged in long-term, unusually ambitious projects in the humanities and humanities-related social sciences. Up to nine fellowships each year, with a stipend of $75,000, to support an academic year of residence at any one of twelve national residential research centers. The deadline is 2 October.

Charles A. Ryskamp Research Fellowships: For advanced assistant and untenured associate professors in the humanities and humanities-related social sciences whose scholarly contributions have advanced their fields and who have well-designed and carefully developed plans for new research. Up to twelve fellowships, with a stipend of $64,000 for two semesters of research, a fund of $2,500 for research and travel, and an additional stipend for summer support, if appropriate—all flexibly arranged within three years. The deadline is 2 October.

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation / ACLS Early Career Fellowships:

1) Dissertation Completion Fellowships: For doctoral students in the humanities and related social sciences at institutions in the United States to complete their dissertations. Up to sixty-five fellowships, with a stipend of $25,000, plus funds for research costs of up to $3,000 and for university fees of up to $5,000, for one year. The deadline is 12 November.

2) Fellowships for Recent Doctoral Recipients: For recent recipients of the PhD who currently hold a Dissertation Completion Fellowship (or other similar fellowship of national stature) and who will complete their degree within the period specified in their first fellowship application. Up to twenty-five fellowships, with a stipend of $30,000 to devote an academic year to research, with tenure of the fellowship to begin within two years from the date of the award. The deadline is 10 December.

Henry Luce Foundation / ACLS Dissertation Fellowships in American Art: For doctoral students at any stage of dissertation research or writing on topics in the history of the visual arts in the United States. Ten fellowships of $25,000 available for graduate students in departments of art history at United States institutions. The deadline is 12 November.

Henry Luce Foundation / ACLS Grants to Individuals in East Asian Archaeology and Early History: For individuals conducting research, training, or translation projects in the archaeology and early history of East Asia, including China, Hong Kong, Japan, Korea, Macau, Mongolia, Taiwan, Brunei, Burma/Myanmar, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Vietnam. The deadline is 12 November.

Grants for Southeast European Studies: Postdoctoral grants (research and developmental) of up to $25,000 will be offered for six to twelve months of uninterrupted research in the social sciences or humanities relating to Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Macedonia, Romania, and Serbia and Montenegro (including Kosovo). Dissertation fellowships (developmental, research, and writing) of up to $17,000 are also available for work related to the countries listed above. The deadline is 12 November. Grants for Southeast European language training will also be offered. The deadline is 16 January. A grant of $15,000 will be made to an individual or collaborative team for a Research project on heritage speakers in the United States. The deadline is 16 January. Conference grants of up to $25,000 and travel grants of $1,000–$2,500 are also available. The deadline is 30 January.

Committee on Scholarly Communication with China Programs:

1) American Research in the Humanities in China: A research program for postdoctoral scholars in the humanities to pursue research in China for four to twelve months. The postmark deadline is 12 November.

2) Chinese Fellowships for Scholarly Development: Fellowships for Chinese scholars in the social sciences and humanities to carry out one or two semesters of individual or collaborative research at the invitation of a US host scholar. Candidates must be nominated by the US host; Chinese scholars may not apply directly. The deadline is 12 November.

New Perspectives on Chinese Culture and Society: Funding Pending: Grants are available to support planning meetings, workshops, and conferences and publications on the topic New Perspectives on Chinese Culture and Society. The deadline is 12 November.

Digital Innovation Fellowships Program: Up to five awards to support digitally based research projects in all disciplines of the humanities and humanities-related social sciences. The fellowships of up to $55,000 also provide for project costs of up to $25,000. The deadline is 2 October.

AMERICAN COUNCIL ON EDUCATION: ACE Fellows Program provides an opportunity for senior faculty members and administrators to broaden and deepen their administrative skills. Fellows work for an academic year, semester, or other time frame in an intern-mentor relationship with college or university presidents and other senior administrators and attend three weekend seminars. The deadline for 2009–10 is 1 November 2008. Funding is provided by candidate's institution and internship institution. Write or call the ACE Fellows Program, American Council on Education, 1 Dupont Circle, NW, Washington, DC 20036-1193 (202 939-9420; fellows@ace.nche.edu; http://www.acenet.edu/programs/fellows).

AMERICAN HANDEL SOCIETY RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP: An award of up to $2,000 is granted to an advanced graduate student or a scholar in an early stage of his or her career, to pursue research on G. F. Handel or a related subject. The deadline is 15 March. graduate students and junior faculty members. Round-trip travel fare is also provided. The deadline is 15 February.

Through the Donald Groves Fund the society seeks to promote publication in the field of early American numismatics involving material dating no later than 1800. Funding is available for travel and other expenses in association with research, as well as for publication costs.

The Frances M. Schwartz Fellowship is available to New York-area students for work in numismatic and museum methodology at the society. Applicants must have a BA or equivalent; stipend varies with tenure.

Information and application forms may be obtained from the American Numismatic Society, 96 Fulton St., New York, NY 10038 (212 571-4470; fax: 212 571-4479; info@numismatics.org; http://www.numismatics.org).

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY: Information and forms for all programs are available for downloading from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org); click on Fellowships and Research Grants. This section of the Web site is updated every year in June.

Franklin Research Grants: Postdoctoral grants for basic research in all fields. The maximum grant is $6,000. The deadlines (including receipt of two referee letters) are 1 October and 1 December. Decisions are announced in February and April. Information and forms are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

Sabbatical Fellowship: Open to mid-career faculty members of universities and four-year colleges in the United States who have been granted a sabbatical or research year but who will receive financial support from their parent institutions for only the first half of the year. Candidates must not have had financially supported leave during the two years prior to 1 September of the year of application. The doctoral degree must have been conferred no fewer than seven and no more than twenty years prior to date of application. The fellowship carries a stipend of up to $40,000. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org). The deadline is 15 October.

Phillips Fund Grants for Native American Research: The fund provides grants for work in North American Indian linguistics and ethnohistory, with preference given to younger scholars and graduate students for research on master's or doctoral dissertations. No grants are made in the areas of archaeology, ethnography, psycholinguistics, or pedagogical materials. The maximum grant is $3,500. The deadline is 1 March. Download information and forms from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

Lewis and Clark Fund for Exploration and Field Research: Encourages exploratory field studies for the collection of specimens and data and to provide the imaginative stimulus that accompanies direct observation. Applications are invited from disciplines with a large dependence on field studies, such as archeology, anthropology, biology, ecology, geography, geology, and paleontology, but grants will not be restricted to these fields. Grants will be available to doctoral students and postdoctoral researchers who wish to participate in field studies for their theses or for other purposes. Undergraduates are not eligible. Budgets should be limited to travel and related expenses, including personal field equipment. Amounts will depend on travel costs but will ordinarily be in the range of several hundred dollars up to about $5,000. The deadline is 15 March. Information and forms may be downloaded from the society's Web site (http://www.amphilsoc.org).

John Hope Franklin Dissertation Fellowship: Designed to support an outstanding doctoral student at an American university who is conducting dissertation research. The objective of the fellowship is to help remedy the serious shortage of faculty members of color in core fields in the arts and sciences by supporting the PhD projects of minority students of great promise (particularly African Americans, Hispanic Americans, and Native Americans) as well as other talented students who have a demonstrated commitment to eradicating racial disparities and enlarging minority representation in academia. The fellow is expected to spend a significant amount of time in residence at the APS Library, and, therefore, all applicants should be pursuing dissertation topics in which the holdings of the library are especially strong. The APS Library's extensive collections are fully described at <http://www.amphilsoc.org/library>. Candidates must have completed all course work and examinations preliminary to the doctoral dissertation and be prepared to devote full time for twelve months—with no teaching obligations—to research on their dissertation projects or the writing of their dissertations. The fellow will also be expected to spend a minimum of three months in Philadelphia, in residence at the APS Library with full encouragement to conduct research at other libraries and archives in and around the city. Office space will be provided. The stipend is $25,000 for a twelve-month period, plus $5,000 to support the cost of residency in Philadelphia. The deadline is 1 April. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (<http://www.amphilsoc.org>).

Library Resident Research Fellows: Support research in the society's collections. Applicants must demonstrate a need to work in the society's collections for a minimum of one month and a maximum of three months. The APS Library's extensive collections are fully described at <http://www.amphilsoc.org/library>. Applicants in any relevant field of scholarship may apply. Candidates whose normal place of residence is farther away than a 75-mile radius of Philadelphia will be given some preference. Applicants do not need to hold the doctorate, although PhD candidates must have passed their preliminary examinations. The stipend is $2,000 per month, and the deadline is 1 March. Information and applications are available at the society's Web site (<http://www.amphilsoc.org>).

AMERICAN PRINTING HISTORY ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP IN PRINTING HISTORY: The American Printing History Association (APHA) offers a fellowship in printing history. For 2009, an award of up to $2,000 is available for research in any area of the history of printing in all its forms, including all the arts and technologies relevant to printing, the book arts, and letter forms. Applications are especially welcome from those working in the area of American printing history, but the subject of research has no geographical or chronological limitations and may be national or regional in scope, biographical, analytical, technical, or bibliographical in nature. Printing history-related study with a recognized printer or book artist may also be supported. The fellowship can be used to pay for travel, living, and other expenses. APHA fellowships are open to persons of any nationality. Applicants are asked to submit an application form, a curriculum vitae, and a one-page proposal. Two confidential letters of recommendation specific to the fellowship should be sent separately by the recommenders. The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of support is 1 December 2008. An application form is available at the APHA Web site (<http://www.printinghistory.org>) or by writing to Fellowship Committee, APHA, PO Box 4519, Grand Central Sta., New York, NY 10163.

AMERICAN PSYCHOANALYTIC ASSOCIATION FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM: Seeking outstanding psychiatrists, psychologists, clinical social workers, and academics at various levels of training who are curious about how the mind works, who consider psychoanalytic thinking important for the future of their professional disciplines, and who are likely to become, or already are, leaders in their fields. Applicants may be nominated by their department chairs or program directors. When not applicable, self-nominations are encouraged; and reapplications are permitted. Applicants must be training or working in the United States during the fellowship year. Nominees must have demonstrated leadership ability in their discipline; special aptitude in research, teaching, or clinical endeavors; and special interest in psychodynamics, psychoanalysis, or applied psychoanalysis. Applications must show how the nominee's interest in the mind has developed and how that interest will be applied and influence others in the nominee's field in the future. All applicants, whether or not they receive fellowships, are assigned mentors who are psychoanalysts and members of the American Psychoanalytic Association. Applicants meet regularly with their mentors and develop programs to further their clinical, scholarly, and research interests. All fellows have their LAUNCHED IN JANUARY 2008, the ALI is an innovative, entrepreneurial, cooperative effort to expand the number of books published in literary studies and to increase the audience for them by using common resources available to the five presses through a grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. This collaboration will confront the publishing crisis in literature and literary studies, in which the annual number of university press books has declined steeply in recent years, placing younger scholars at a disadvantage when writing their first books.

THE AMERICAN LITERATURES INITIATIVE will create new opportunities for publication in underserved areas of the humanities. Each press will continue to acquire and develop titles according to its own needs and editorial criteria, looking for high-quality first books by promising scholars and seeking out the best scholarly work about English-language literatures of Central and North America and the Caribbean.

The deadline is 1 November. Write to Grants Div., American-Scandinavian Foundation, 58 Park Ave., New York, NY 10016 (grants@amscan.org; <http://www.amscan.org>).

ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA: Offers five fellowships, two scholarships, and two grants. Fellowships are generally awarded to students in doctoral programs or to recent recipients of doctorates; scholarships are available to undergraduates. Application guidelines and forms may be downloaded from the AIA Web site at www.archaeological.org, and additional information may be had by contacting the Fellowship Coordinator, Archaeological Inst. of America, 656 Beacon St., Boston, MA 02215 (617 358-4184).

Olivia James Traveling Fellowship: Offers $25,000 for study and travel in Greece, the Aegean Islands, Sicily, Southern Italy, Asia Minor, and Mesopotamia. Students in archaeology, classics, sculpture and history are most suitable. Applicants must be United States citizens; the application deadline is 1 November.

Harriet and Leon Pomerance Fellowship: One $5,000 fellowship for work on an individual scholarly project on Aegean Bronze Age archaeology. Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States or Canada; the application deadline is 1 November.

Archaeology of Portugal Fellowship: Stipends average $4,000 and are used to support archaeological study in Portugal. Portuguese, American, and other international scholars are encouraged to reply; the application deadline is 1 November.

Anna C. and Oliver C. Colburn: One $11,000 fellowship awarded every other year for an incoming associate or student member of the American School of Classical Studies at Athens. The stipend supports studies at the ASCSA for no more than a year, and the geographic area and cultural period of study is not specified. Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States or Canada; the next deadline is 15 January 2010.

Helen M. Woodruff Fellowship: One $10,000 fellowship offered by the American Academy in Rome and the AIA to support study of archaeological and classical studies. Information and application forms must be obtained from the AAR; details are on the AIA Web site and the AAR Web site (www.aarome.org). The application deadline is 1 November.

Jane C. Waldbaum Archaeological Field School Scholarship: Five or more $1,000 awards to support junior and senior undergraduates and first-year graduate students. Applicants must be enrolled in a college or university in the United States or Canada (location of field school is not restricted); the application deadline is 15 March.

APA-AIA Minority Scholarship: Two awards of not more than $3,000 are presented jointly by the American Philological Association and the AIA for the purpose of furthering an undergraduates' preparation for graduate work in the classics or classical archaeology. Applications must be submitted to the APA office; details are available at www.apaclassics.org. The next application deadline is 12 December 2008.

Publications Preparation Grant: A two-year $5,000 grant awarded to support scholars in completing and publishing archaeological field research in a peer-reviewed outlet. The grant is intended to assist in the final analysis and writing of the results of field research so that, by the end of the second year, a completed manuscript may be submitted for publication. Applications are welcome from graduate students and postdoctoral professionals; the application deadline is 1 November.

Publications Subvention Grant: Offers subventions in support of new book-length publications in the field of classical archaeology; awards average $5,000 but may be smaller. Particularly welcome are projects that publish the work of first-time authors or that represent the publication of final reports of primary data from sites already excavated or surveyed but still unpublished. Applications are welcome from scholars and nonprofit publishers of all nations; the application deadlines are 1 April and 1 November.

ARIZONA STATE UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE FOR HUMANITIES RESEARCH: Two visiting fellowships for humanities scholars from institutions of higher education in the United States or abroad to spend a semester-in-residence at the university in spring 2010. IHR fellows pursue research and writing in an environment designed to be stimulating and supportive. During their residency, fellows contribute to the general enrichment of humanities scholarship through seminars and public lectures as well as frequent meetings with university fellows working on related topics. The one-semester visiting fellows stipend (15 January through 15 May) is $25,000, and awards include an office and support services. Visit the IHR web page (<http://www.asu.edu/clas/ihr/faculty/fellows/index.html>) for additional information, including the 2009-10 theme and application materials. The final deadline, to be confirmed, is February 2009. The Political Imagination in History

Essays concerning J.G.A. Pocock

J.G.A. Pocock is the greatest historian of political thought of our time. His writings belong to a tradition in the humanities which has looked to the research university as its sign and symbol. This volume throws into relief Pocock's procedures and concerns. Edited by D.N. DeLuna assisted by Perry Anderson and Glenn Burgess, it offers a comprehensive appraisal of his writings. The contributing essayists work in diverse fields in history and literature: Glenn Burgess, J.C.D. Clark, D.N. DeLuna, J.A.W. Gunn, Robert D. Hume, Michael McKeon, Gordon Schochet, and J.G.A. Pocock himself.

The Fringes of Belief English Literature, Ancient Heresy, and the Politics of Freethinking, 1660-1760

SARAH ELLENZWEIG

The Fringes of Belief excavates a fascinating but generally overlooked intellectual tradition that combined political conservatism with radical skepticism. Challenging traditional categories with cogent insight, perceptive reading, and revised versions of intellectual history, Ellenzweig offers fresh and complex appreciations of Aphra Behn, the Earl of Rochester, Jonathan Swift, Alexander Pope, and others.”

Radical Atheism Derrida and the Time of Life

MARTIN HÄGGLUND

“Impeccably argued, Radical Atheism is bound to have a significant impact on Derrida scholarship. Häggglund convincingly demonstrates that Derrida is essentially a philosopher of life, but of the only life there is—the life of finite beings—and hence a radical thinker of temporality. It is a very courageous book. . . .”

FIVE COLLEGE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM FOR MINORITY SCHOLARS: Located in Western Massachusetts, the five schools—Amherst, Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts—associate as members of a consortium, Five Colleges, Incorporated. The Five College Fellowship Program provides a year in residence at one of the campuses for minority graduate students in the final phase of the doctoral degree. The purposes of the program are to enable fellows to complete their dissertation, to encourage their interest in college teaching, and to acquaint them with the schools. Each fellow is hosted within an appropriate department or program at one of the five colleges. (At Smith, recipients hold a Mendenhall Fellowship.) The fellowship includes a stipend of $30,000, office space, housing or housing assistance, research funds, and library privileges at the five colleges. While the award places primary emphasis on completion of the dissertation, most fellows teach at the hosting institution (but no more than a single one-semester course). The dates of the fellowship are 1 September 2009 to 31 May 2010 (nonrenewable). For further information about the deadline and application materials, contact neckert@fivecolleges.edu or call 413 256-8316.

FOLGER INSTITUTE: Graduate students and faculty members from affiliated institutions are eligible to apply for grants-in-aid funded in large part by those universities' membership fees. De Rerum Natura (The Nature of Things)

A Poetic Translation

LUCRETIUS
Translated by David Slavitt

This elegant new translation at last restores the poetry to one of the greatest and most influential poems in the Western tradition. De Rerum Natura is Lucretius's majestic elaboration of Greek Epicurean physics and psychology in an epic that unfolds over the course of six books. Renowned author, translator, and poet Slavitt has captured Lucretius's elegance as well as his philosophical profundity in this highly readable translation of a poem that is crucial to the history of ancient thought.

FRIENDS OF THE LONGFELLOW HOUSE: The collections of the Longfellow National Historic Site (Vassall-Craigie-Longfellow House) in Cambridge, Massachusetts, include a significant archive of materials (letters, photographs, material objects) on a variety of subjects from the seventeenth to early twentieth century. To encourage the use of these archives and collections, the Friends of the Longfellow House have established two annual fellowships with stipends of $1,200: the Diana Korzenik Fellowship and the Stanley Paterson Fellowship. Both stipends are intended to help defray the living or travel expenses of researchers who wish to come to the Cambridge/Boston area to use the Longfellow House archives/collections as well as related archives such as those in the Houghton Library at Harvard or at the Massachusetts Historical Society in Boston. Recipients are requested to be in residence in the Cambridge/Boston area for at least ten days at any time from May 2009 through March 2010 while conducting their research. At some later time the recipient is requested to send the Friends a copy of the results in a published or unpublished form or, possibly, present the results in a talk to the Friends and the public. The application deadline is 15 March 2009. To be considered for either fellowship, applicants should submit a single completed Korzenik/Paterson application form, a brief (1–3 pp.) project description, and a curriculum vitae. These materials are available online at <http://longfellowfriends.org>. The project proposal should include an account of how the applicant intends to use archival materials located in the Longfellow House and Cambridge/Boston area and the other sources of funding the applicant has or expects to receive to support this project. Mail requests and completed applications should be sent, preferably by e-mail, to Robert Mitchell, 26 Farrar St., Cambridge, MA 02138 (mitchell@clarku.edu).

INSTITUTE OF HISTORICAL RESEARCH MELLON FELLOWSHIPS FOR DISSERTATION RESEARCH IN THE HUMANITIES: The Predissertation Fellowship Programme offers five predissertation fellowships in the humanities to candidates who wish to spend time in the United Kingdom examining archival material to draw up a dissertation proposal. Candidates for these awards must have completed their coursework and oral examinations by the time the research visit is undertaken. These fellowships are open to candidates registered for a doctoral degree in a graduate school in the United States or Canada. Visits will be for a maximum of two months and must be made between the beginning of June and the end of September. The stipend is $3,000. The Dissertation Fellowships Programme offers five dissertation fellowships in the humanities to candidates who wish to spend time in the United Kingdom carrying out archival research for their dissertations. These fellowships are open to candidates registered for a doctoral degree in a graduate school in the United States or Canada. Candidates for these awards must be working on a dissertation that has already been formally approved. These fellowships will last for one year and will run concurrently with the academic year (i.e., from 1 October to 30 September). The stipend is $20,000. The deadline for both programs is 13 January. For further information and an application form, please contact Nicola Cowee, Fellowship Assistant, Inst. of Historical Research, Senate House, Malet St., London WC1E 7HU, England (nicola.cowee@sas.ac.uk).

INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR ADVANCED STUDIES AT NEW YORK UNIVERSITY: Fellowships for the center's project on the authority of social knowledge in a global age. The project, which welcomes applications from scholars with PhDs at all career stages in any social science or humanities discipline from the United States and abroad, seeks to examine the production, circulation, and practical import of knowledge generated in the various disciplines of social inquiry. What are the costs of the growing divide between social science inquiry and humanistic scholarship? What are the implications of the growing dominance of US-based models of social inquiry for the understanding of other cultures and for the fundamental concepts of political experience and inquiry. The stipend is $35,000 for nine months and includes eligibility for NYU housing. See <http://www.nyu.edu/gsas/dept/icas> for more information and application forms or write to the center (fax: 212 995-4546; icas@nyu.edu).

IREX (INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH AND EXCHANGES BOARD): For further information on all programs, contact IREX, 2121 K St., NW, Suite 700, Washington, DC 20037 (202 628-8188; fax: 202 628-8189; irex@irex.org; <http://www.irex.org>).

Individual Advanced Research Opportunities Program: Grants for US predoctoral scholars, postdoctoral scholars, and professionals with terminal degrees of up to nine months for research in the social sciences in Europe and Eurasia. Limited funding is available for projects in the humanities. Grants of one to three months are available to master's students for research on policy-relevant theses or equivalent projects. Application deadline: 1 November for participation the following academic year.

Short-Term Travel Grants Program: Grants of up to $3,500 for up to two months of independent research in Europe and Eurasia for postdoctoral scholars and professionals with terminal degrees. Successful projects must make a substantive contribution to knowledge of the contemporary political, economic, historical, or cultural developments in the region and must demonstrate how such knowledge is relevant to US foreign policy. Application deadline: 1 February.

John J. and Nancy Lee Roberts Fellowship Program: A single grant of up to $30,000 for research projects lasting up to twelve months. Each year applications will be accepted for specific fields and countries. Contact IREX for more information. Application deadline: 15 March.

KEATS-SHELLEY ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA: The association awards two Carl H. Pforzheimer Jr. Research Grants of $2,500 each to advanced graduate students, independent scholars, and untenured faculty members pursuing research on British Romanticism and literary culture between 1789 and 1832, with preference given to projects involving authors and subjects featured in the Keats-Shelley Journal bibliography. The deadline is 1 November. Further information and application forms may be obtained at <http://www.rc.umd.edu/ksaa/pfzgrant.html>, or applicants may write to Grants Committee, Keats-Shelley Association of America, Inc., New York Public Library, Room 226, 476 5th Ave., New York, NY 10018-2788.

KOREA FOUNDATION PROGRAM: The Korea Foundation, a public nonprofit organization based in Seoul, Korea, carries out various academic and cultural exchange programs to improve awareness and understanding of Korea. In particular, the foundation promotes research and teaching on Korea in major university centers and research institutes of the world. To expand academic interest in the field of Korean studies, the foundation extends support to encourage and aid professors, researchers, and graduate students in the humanities and social sciences for their research work on Korea. Detailed information about fellowship programs is available at <http://www.kf.or.kr>.

KOSCIUSZKO FOUNDATION: Tuition scholarships for graduate study in the United States, and for exchange programs to Poland are available to US citizens of Polish descent, Polish citizens who have permanent-resident status in the United States, and persons of non-Polish background who are majoring in Polish subjects. Undergraduate sophomores through MA and PhD students (but not at the dissertation level) may apply for a scholarship to spend a year at the Institute of Polish Diaspora and Ethnic Studies, Jagiellonian University in Krakow; candidates for doctoral degrees and university faculty members may apply for academic-year grants to pursue studies and research at accredited institutions of higher learning in Poland. The deadline for tuition scholarships is 15 January. The deadline for year-abroad and studies and research in Poland scholarships is 15 December. Applications for exchange to Poland scholarships must be accompanied by a nonrefundable processing fee of $50; the application fee for tuition scholarships is $25. Various other scholarships and grants are also available to Americans of Polish heritage. Write or call Grants Office, Kosciuszko Foundation, 15 East 65th St., New York, NY 10021-6595 (212 734-2130, ext. 210). Most applications are available from September to December on the Internet (<http://www.kosciuszkofoundation.org>). Most scholarship awards are announced in May.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES: The endowment's grant-making operations are conducted through four divisions and two offices. Through grants to educational institutions and opportunities for teachers, the Division of Education Programs is designed to strengthen sustained, thoughtful study of the humanities at all levels of education. Through fellowships to individual scholars and support of collaborative projects, the Division of Research Programs promotes significant original research in the humanities. In the Division of Public Programs the projects in Media, Museums, and Historical Organizations and the Humanities Projects in Libraries support humanities projects for the out-of-school public. The Division of Preservation and Access makes grants for projects that will create, preserve, and increase the availability of resources important for research, education, and public programming in the humanities. The Office of Federal/State Partnership makes grants to citizens' committees in each state to provide support for local humanities projects. Nonprofit institutions interested in developing new sources of long-term support for humanities programs may seek assistance from the Office of Challenge Grants.

General eligibility: The endowment supports the work of individual scholars and not-for-profit institutions and organizations engaged in projects involving the humanities. Those institutions include universities; four-year colleges; junior and community colleges;

“An extraordinary show of force.”

—from the foreword by ROSANNA WARREN selected and translated by Norman R. Shapiro introductions by Roberta L. Krueger, Catherine Lafarge, & Catherine Perry

UNPRECEDENTED IN SCOPE AND DEPTH, this tour de force collection of works by French-speaking women poets contains over 600 poems from 54 different pens, from the twelfth century Marie de France through Albertine Sarrazin, who died in 1967. Through artful, careful translations that remain true to the authors' voices, style, and artistic integrity, Norman R. Shapiro provides a very particular window into the development and evolution of French poetry from the Middle Ages and well into the modern era.

Original texts and translations are presented on facing pages, allowing readers to appreciate the vigor and variety of the French and the fidelity of the English versions.

elementary and secondary schools; educational, cultural, professional, and community groups; museums and historical organizations; libraries; public agencies; and public radio and television stations. The endowment welcomes applications for support from all such institutions and groups, from individual US citizens with or without academic affiliation, and from foreign nationals who have been living in the US or its territories for at least three years at the time of application. Fields of support: According to the act that established the endowment, the humanities include, but are not limited to, the following fields: history, philosophy, language, linguistics, literature, archaeology, jurisprudence, history and criticism of the arts, ethics, comparative religion, and those aspects of the social sciences employing historical or philosophical approaches. This last category includes cultural anthropology, sociology, political theory, and international relations. Gifts-and-matching grants: An applicant may sometimes be offered a "gifts-and-matching" grant as a supplement to an outright grant or as the sole form of endowment support. When the endowment offers to support a project through one of these grants, it is up to the grantee to raise gifts from outside his or her own organization to a level approved by the endowment. The endowment then matches this money with federal funds, but the total sum that can be federally matched is limited by the annual congressional appropriations for that purpose. Challenge grants: These grants offer one federal dollar for every three or four raised from nonfederal sources. Proposed expenditures that support capital growth and financial stability will receive priority. Other items that may be covered are renovation of facilities and administrative and program costs attributable to the humanities. Deadlines: Applicants (except fellowship applicants) should submit preliminary descriptions of their projects to the appropriate division at least six to eight weeks before the application deadline for the program to which they plan to apply. Write to the Office of Public Affairs, Room 402, Natl. Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, DC 20506, or call 202 606-8400 for complete information. (Deaf and hearing-impaired persons should call 202 606-8282.) Current information is available through the Internet at info@neh.gov or on the World Wide Web at <http://www.neh.gov>.

For state humanities council deadlines, write or call NEH for the address of the state humanities council office in your state.

NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR JEWISH CULTURE: Approximately ten dissertation fellowships in Jewish studies or in areas related to Jewish history, community, or institutions are awarded each year. Stipends range from $7,000 to $10,000. The deadline is 5 January. In addition, the Sidney and Hadassah Musher Publication Prize is awarded to facilitate the publication of a dissertation relating to Jewish life in Israel or America, from 1880 to the present. One prize, for $4,000, is awarded in alternate years. The deadline is 15 July in even-numbered years. For more information, visit the foundation's Web site (nfjc@jewishculture.org; <http://www.jewishculture.org/grants>) or call 212 629-0500.

NATIONAL HUMANITIES CENTER: Postdoctoral fellowships for advanced study in history, philosophy, languages and literature, classics, religion, history of the arts, and other liberal arts. Social scientists, natural scientists, or professionals whose work has a humanistic dimension may also apply. Stipends are individually determined. The deadline is 15 October. Write or call Fellowship Program, National Humanities Center, PO Box 12256, Research Triangle Park, NC 27709-2256 (919 549-0661; nhc@ga.unc.edu; <http://www.nhc.rtp.nc.us>).

NATIONAL WOMEN'S STUDIES ASSOCIATION: Scholarships and fellowships to persons working in women's studies. Write to the NWSA, Suite 502, 7100 Baltimore Ave., College Park, MD 20740 (301 403-0525). The postmark deadline is 15 February.

NWSA Graduate Scholarship Award: A $1,000 award to a student engaged in the research or writing stages of a thesis or dissertation in the interdisciplinary field of women's studies. Applicants must be NWSA members at the time of application.

NWSA Graduate Scholarship in Lesbian Studies: A scholarship of $500 for a graduate student in lesbian studies. Preference to NWSA members.

Scholarship in Jewish Women's Studies: A $1,000 award for a graduate student in Jewish women's studies.

NEWBERRY LIBRARY: Long-term fellowships are available to postdoctoral scholars for periods of six to eleven months, unless otherwise noted under the fellowship description. Applicants must hold a PhD at the time of application. The stipend for these fellowships is up to $40,000 unless otherwise specified. Applications for long-term awards are due 10 January. Short-term fellowships are intended for postdoctoral scholars or PhD candidates (or equivalent for the field) from outside of the Chicago area who have a specific need for Newberry collections. Scholars whose principal residence or place of employment is within the Chicago area are generally not eligible. The tenure of short-term fellowships varies from one week to two months unless otherwise noted under the award description (a majority of fellowships are one month or less). The amount of the award is $1,600 per month unless otherwise noted. Applications for short-term fellowships are due 1 March unless otherwise noted.

Long-Term Fellowships

Lloyd Lewis Fellowship in American History: The fellowship is awarded to postdoctoral scholars pursuing projects in any area of American history appropriate to the Newberry's collections.

Mellon Postdoctoral Research Fellowships: These fellowships support residential research and writing by postdoctoral scholars in any field relevant to the library's collections.

Monticello College Foundation Fellowship for Women: This fellowship is designed for a postdoctoral woman at an early stage of her academic career whose work gives clear promise of scholarly productivity. Preference will be given to proposals particularly concerned with the study of women. The tenure of this fellowship is six months with a stipend of $25,200.

National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowships: A fellowship for established postdoctoral scholars to support projects in any field appropriate to the library's collections. The applicant must be a United States citizen or a foreign national with three years' residence.

Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships for Recently Tenured Scholars: The American Council of Learned Societies has a program supporting advanced scholarly work in the humanities. The Newberry Library is one of the residential sites. For more information on how to apply, visit <http://www.acls.org>. Applications are due early fall 2008.

Short-Term Fellowships

American Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies Fellowship: This short-term fellowship is for scholars wishing to use the Newberry's collections to study the period 1660–1815.

Lester J. Cappon Fellowship in Scholarly Editing: This award for postdoctoral scholars provides up to $5,000 to support historical editing projects based on Newberry sources. It supports residential research in the Newberry's collections in preparation of the edition and also can defray other costs related to its preparation and publication.

Short-Term Fellowship in the History of Cartography: This short-term fellowship is for work in residence at the Newberry on projects related to the history of cartography and focused on cartographic materials in the library's collection.

Audrey Lumsden-Kouvel Fellowship: This fellowship is for postdoctoral scholars who wish to use the Newberry's extensive holdings in late medieval and Renaissance history and literature. Preference will be given to projects focusing on Romance cultures. This fellowship may be combined with nonresidential fellowships. Provides a stipend of $4,800 for a minimum of three months' tenure.

Midwest Modern Language Association Fellowship: This short-term fellowship offers up to a month's support for work in residence

The deadline is 1 December.

SEX, RACE, AND GLOBALIZATION PROJECT AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA: The Committee on Lesbian, Gay, and Bisexual Studies at the University of Arizona offers two Rockefeller Humanities Residency Fellowships for the academic year. The Sex, Race, and Globalization (SRG) project explores the imbrication of sexuality, gender, and race with economic, political, and informational processes across local, regional, national, and transnational scales. Noting that global movements of capital, information, and people are facilitated, blocked, and diverted by sexual, racial, and national categories, even as cultural formations are reshaped by globalization, we seek to describe and explain the links between exploitative economic processes and structures of sexual, gendered, and racial inequality. Recognizing that globalization is a transformation of prior systems of global economic and political interaction, we welcome applications from scholars working in or across various historical periods. While the SRG project sustains the commitment of lesbian and gay studies to recognizing the significance of sexuality, we seek to develop alliances among identity and area studies fields and, therefore, welcome applications from scholars who have not worked in the context of lesbian and gay studies. Fellows receive a stipend of $35,000, travel and

THE DIVINE COMEDY

by Dante

translated by Robert Hollander and Jean Hollander

PARADISO

The verse translation of Robert and Jean Hollander with the Italian on the facing page combines maximum fidelity to Dante's text with the artistry necessary to reflect the original's virtuosity. Their translation is the clearest, most accurate, and most readable, with an unsurpassable introduction, and notes likely to be a touchstone for generations to come for both scholars and students.

Robert Hollander taught The Divine Comedy to Princeton students for thirty-nine years and was the director of the Princeton Dante Project. He is the author of a dozen monographs, editions, and translations, and some six dozen articles on Dante, Boccaccio, and other writers. He has received many awards, including the Gold Medal of the city of Florence in recognition of his Dante scholarship. Jean Hollander, his wife, is a poet, teacher, and former director of the Writers' Conference at the College of New Jersey.

WINTERTHUR RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS IN AMERICAN ART, HISTORY, AND CULTURE: Winterthur is a public museum and garden that supports approximately twenty-five visiting scholars each year in several programs: NEH fellowships for senior scholars (up to $40,000 for 4–12 months), Lois F. McNeil dissertation fellowships ($7,000 per semester), short-term (1–3 month) fellowships ($1,500 per month). Winterthur's collections include primarily American material, with supporting material in British and Continental art and culture. The library holds half a million imprints, manuscripts, visual sources, and printed ephemera for research from the seventeenth through the early twentieth century. The museum includes 86,000 domestic artifacts and works of art made or used in America to 1860. The collections support research in such subjects as the history of manners, the body, travel and tourism, domestic life, women's and men's culture, and childhood and in art history, material culture, and decorative arts. For information and online library catalog, <http://www.winterthur.org>. Application deadline for the May 2008–August 2009 fellowship year is 15 January 2009. Information and application forms are also available from Research Fellowship Program, Office of Academic Programs, Winterthur Museum and Country Estate, Winterthur, DE 19735 (rkrill@winterthur.org).

New York University in Madrid

A One-Year M.A. Program in Spanish and Latin American Languages and Literatures with a Concentration in either Spanish and Latin American Literatures and Cultures or Spanish Language and Translation

Drawing on the resources of NYU, the city of Madrid, and professors from both Spanish universities and the NYU Department of Spanish and Portuguese in New York, we offer an M.A. program that is both intellectually stimulating and academically rigorous. M.A. candidates study at NYU in Madrid's center in El Viso, a residential area of Madrid very close to the center of the city, as well as at the historic Instituto Internacional. Day and weekend study-visits, guest lecturers, and a Graduate Research Symposium in April complete the academic program. On approval, students may also take courses at the Universidad Autónoma de Madrid.

Segre 8, El Viso

COURSE OFFERINGS

The yearlong course, A Cultural History of Spain and Latin America, is taught by faculty from leading Spanish universities and from the NYU Department of Spanish and Portuguese in New York. Electives in the Literatures and Cultures Concentration range from Cervantes, Pictorial Traditions in Spain and Its Latin American Colonies, to courses on 20th-century Spanish and Latin American literatures. Offerings for the Language and Translation Concentration include The Theory and Practice of Translation, Problems in Spanish Syntax for Bilingual Communication, and The Teaching of Spanish as a Foreign Language. All courses are taught in Spanish.

NYU in Madrid also offers an undergraduate program for the academic year, fall, spring, or summer. Courses are taught in Spanish and English.
