ELEANOR ALBERGA is a highly regarded composer with commissions from the BBC Proms and The Royal Opera, Covent Garden. Originally from Jamaica, Alberga's music is performed all over the world. In 2015 her commissioned work ARISE, ATHENA! for the opening of the Last Night of the BBC Proms was seen and heard by millions. Alberga has gathered a number of awards, notably a NESTA fellowship in 2000 and a Paul Hamlyn Award in 2019. In 2020, she was elected a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Music. She was awarded an OBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours 2021 for services to British Music. At different times, Alberga was a member of the African Dance Company Fontomfrom and played guitar and sang with the Jamaican Folk Singers.

JULIAN ANDERSON is Professor of Composition at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama and President of the Music Council for the Fondation Prince Pierre de Monaco. His first acknowledged work, Diptych (1990) for orchestra, won the 1992 Royal Philharmonic Society Prize for Young Composers. His two commissions for the London Sinfonietta, Khorovod (1994) and Alhambra Fantasy (2000), have been widely performed by leading ensembles across Europe and the USA. In October 2002, Anderson was appointed Artistic Director of the Philharmonia Orchestra's 'Music of Today' series. Throughout the 2002/3 season he was 'Composer in Focus' with the London Philharmonic Orchestra. He was the Cleveland Orchestra's Daniel Lewis Young Composer Fellow for 2005–7. Most recently, Anderson received the highly coveted Grawemeyer 2023 Award for his Cello Concerto Litanies (2018–19).

DAVID BEDNALL is recognized as one of the leading choral composers of his generation. He studied for a PhD in Composition with John Pickard at the University of Bristol and is signed to Oxford University Press. He is Choral Director of Clifton Cathedral, Musical Director of Bristol Bach Choir, Bristol Chamber Choir and Chew Valley Choral Society, alongside an extensive freelance career. He has improvised on live radio, and performed extensively in the UK and abroad, including at Notre-Dame de Paris. He was stunt-organist on Dr Who. David's compositions are widely performed, recorded, and broadcast on BBC Radio and Classic FM. His first CD Hail, gladdening light was a Gramophone Editor's Choice, as was Stabat Mater with Jennifer Pike (violin) and Benenden Chapel Choir under Edward Whiting. Flame Celestial received a Gramophone Recommendation and Requiem with Philip Dukes (viola) and St Mary's Calne and Welcome All Wonders garnered superb international critical acclaim.

NAOMI BELSHAW is a composer manager and classical music PR specialist. Originally trained as an archaeologist, fifteen years ago Naomi swapped her hobby in music for her career, taking up roles across the music industry including Classical Account Manager at PRS for Music, Grants and Programmes Manager at PRS Foundation, and PR Executive and PR Manager at WildKat PR. She has a wealth of experience across a broad range of areas within the arts, particularly in contemporary music. In 2019, Naomi set up her own consultancy to be able to offer composers and artists more formal help in their careers, drawing on her uniquely broad perspective and extensive knowledge in funding, festival curation, publishing, licensing, royalties, PR, marketing and more. In her spare time, Naomi plays violin in the progressive rock band The Wood Demons.

CHERYL FRANCES-HOAD is a composer whose work has been widely premiered, broadcast and recorded. She trained as a cellist and pianist at the Yehudi Menuhin School before going on to Cambridge and King's College, London. Frances-Hoad was chosen to be a featured composer on BBC Radio 3's 'Composer of the Week' ('Five under 35', March 2015), and her works have garnered many awards, from the BBC Lloyds Bank Composer of the Year award when she was just fifteen years old to more recently the Mendelssohn Scholarship, The Bliss Prize, The Cambridge Composers Competition, The Robert Helps International Composition Prize (USA), The Sun River Prize (China), The International String Orchestra Composition Prize (Malta), The RPS Composition Prize, and three Ivor Novello (formally BASCA) British Composer Awards (for Psalm 1 and Stolen Rhythm in 2010, and Scenes from the Wild in 2022).

CHRISTOPHER FOX is Honorary Professor at the University of York. Between 1984 and 1994 he taught at the Darmstädter Ferienkurse für neue Musik and returned to the courses to teach again in 2014. In 2021, he was elected to the Music Section of the Academy of Arts, Berlin. Fox's work has been performed and broadcast worldwide, and he regularly collaborates with conductors Ilan Volkov and Edward Wickham, pianists Ian Pace, Philip Thomas, and John Snijders, ensemble recherche, Ensemble Offspring, KNM Berlin, Apartment House, and EXAUDI. His writings on music have also been published widely, in the journals Contact, Contemporary Music Review, Musical Times, TEMPO (which he has edited since 2015), and The Guardian. Perspectives on the Music of Christopher Fox: Straight Lines in Broken Times (edited by Rose Dodd) was published in 2017 by Routledge.

HOLLIE HARDING is Associate Head of Composition at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama. She is interested in looking at different ways of curating and constructing performance scenarios and her piece Melting, Shifting, Liquid World was the first composition to incorporate the use of open-ear, bone-conduction headsets alongside live acoustic and amplified instruments. Hollie has worked with Alwynne Pritchard, Sjøforsvarets Musikkorps (Norwegian Navy Band), London Philharmonic Orchestra, CHROMA ensemble, Castalian String Quartet, Ensemble Via Nova (Weimar), and DeciBells (Basel). She was 2017 Composer in Residence with CoMA and subsequently led workshops at their Summer School in Orkney. In 2019, Hollie won the Royal Philharmonic Society Composition Prize and in the same year she was also awarded a place on the LSO Jerwood Composer+ Scheme to develop two new pieces for members of the London Symphony Orchestra.

JON HARGREAVES is a conductor specialising in contemporary music. Jon founded the Octandre Ensemble with composer Christian Mason in 2011, and since then the group has established a strong reputation for their performances of carefully curated programmes of original works and contemporary and modernist repertoire. Recent performances include Schoenberg's Pierrot Lunaire with the mezzo soprano Lore Lixenberg; the world premiere of Iris Dreaming, a one-woman chamber opera by Dame Gillian Whitehead; and 'Layers of Love', an epic programme in the Principal Sound Festival at St. John's, Smith Square featuring the music of Morton Feldman, Christian Mason, Claude Vivier, and Anton Webern, which was recorded and broadcast by BBC Radio 3. Hargreaves holds a PhD in Music from the University of York, where his thesis discusses communication between composers and listeners in twentieth-century repertoire.

KENNETH HESKETH is Professor of Composition at the Royal College of Music. He has received numerous international commissions from such organisations as the Fromm Foundation, the Birmingham Contemporary Music Group, the Royal Liverpool Philharmonic orchestra, the BBC Philharmonic, the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, the London Sinfonietta, the Göttinger Symphonie Orchester, the Asko ensemble, and Ensemble Contemporain de Montréal. He has been represented at festivals from London (Proms) to the USA (Tanglewood/Bowdoin) to China (Beijing Modern Music Festival) and has worked with an array of conductors including Sir Simon Rattle, Oliver Knussen, Vasily Sinaisky, and Susanna Malkki.
