

POETRY/FICTION

Poem

A WALK IN THE PARK

To die beautifully as a leaf, descending from the heavens to our feet in golden light, a pirouette here, a pirouette there,
no fear, no fright,
just peace.

—Rita Sherman