

Editorial

The Editors would like to register their great sadness at the tragically early death of our colleague, Elizabeth Bates. The loss of her empirical breadth, her theoretical engagement and her sheer energy and enthusiasm for the fundamental questions that engage us all, will leave a huge gap.

We will be publishing two Review articles with commentaries this year: The second issue will carry a review article by Kenneth Drozd of Investigations in Universal Grammar (1998) by Stephen Crain & Rosalind Thornton, together with 13 commentaries and a response by Drozd. The fourth issue will carry an article entitled: Multiple solutions to the logical problem of language acquisition by Brian MacWhinney also with commentaries and a response.
