

Act II.

PERICLES.

Sc. II.

MR. COOPER as PERICLES.
Per. This day I'll rise, or else add ill to ill.

London, Printed by G. Cawthorn, British Library Strand July 16. 1796.

Graham, John, artist. Mr. Cooper as Pericles. William Skelton, printmaker. London: G. Cawthorn, 1796. Folger ART File C778.6 no.1 (size XS)

Thomas Abthorpe Cooper (1776-1849) is depicted here as Pericles, having just donned the armor rescued from the sea. The print by William Skelton quotes the final line of Act 2, Scene 1. The full couplet reads: 'Then honor be but a goal to my will; This day I'll rise or else add ill to ill' (2.1.171-172).

From an original in the Folger Shakespeare Library
Licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 4.0 International License (CC BY-SA 4.0)